Schools, Boy Scouts Will Assist Drive For Scrap Aluminum

Will Collect Friday And Saturday, Red Cross Gets Proceeds, War Industries Get Material

The aluminum victory drive is being held in Newmarket on Friday and Saturday of this week.

All proceeds will go to the Red Cross. The schools of Newmarket are co-operating in this effort to obtain scrap aluminum, which is urgently needed by the government for war work, particularly for use in planes.

The public, separate and high school pupils are co-operating with the Boy Scouts in this drive. Announcements are being made in the schools today and the pupils are being asked to bring all scrap aluminum which they can collect to the schools on Friday and Saturday, where the Scouts will pick it up, store it and prepare the scrap for delivery.

Citizens are urgently requested to contribute any aluminum utensils or odd pieces which are not in use and are asked to make a thorough search for aluminum scrap in their homes. They may find aluminum parts in old typewriters, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, automobiles, etc., and of course many small household articles are made of aluminum, as well as pots, pans and kitchen utensils of all kinds.

SOLDIERS TAKE LOCAL CROWN FOR HARDBALL

TANNERS LEAD IN SIXTH, BUT M.T.C. BREAKS THROUGH

SCORE IS 7 - 3

The curtain was rung down on the hardball season for 1941 at the Stuart Scott park on Tuesday evening. The M.T.C. won the third game in the finals from the Davis Leather nine by a 7-3 count to take the championship in three straight contests.

This was, perhaps, the best game of the season, with both clubs playing errorless ball for the first six innings.

Southpaw Bob Peters of the north-enders went to the mound for his club while Yank Moore, a newcomer, was sent in for the army.

Niles put the soldiers in front in the third when he lifted a long hit over the right field fence for a round trip. The tanners came right back in their turn in the fourth to take the lead, pushing over two runs, Fairey, G. Haskett and Peters connecting for consecutive hits, the former two making home plate safely.

Niles again kept his club in the hunt in the fifth when he hammered out his second homer of the night to knot the count at two all. The Davis squad came right back

OTTAWA, CANADA

Wednesday, September 10, marks the beginning of the third year of Canada's participation in the war. In acknowledgement of that fact the government has issued a proclamation setting aside the period September 10-17 as a week of reconsecration of the Canadian people to our cause and in national honor "for those who on land, sea and in the air are defenders of our country."

THE FOLLOWING IS THE WORDING OF THE PROCLAMATION:

"WHEREAS on the tenth day of September, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine, the Dominion of Canada declared a State of War with the German Reich; AND WHEREAS at the beginning of the third year of this war the leaders of democracy have reaffirmed their detemination to continue the struggle until the evil of Nazi tyranny has been destroyed; NOW KNOW YE that We, by and with the advice of our Privy Council for Canada, have thought fit to ordain and do by this Our Proclamation ordain and declare that the week commencing Wednesday, the tenth of September, and ending on Wednsday, the seventeenth of September, inclusively, in the present year, be observed throughout our Dominion of Canada in national honor for those who on land, sea and in the air are the defenders of our country, and in proud memory for those valiant hearts who have gone out from among us in the most precious of all sacrifices for our common freedom; AND KNOW YE FURTHER that We do also hereby ordain and declare this week as one of reconsecration of our lives and principles which under Divine Providence have been our stay and help in the past, to the end that torment may be lifted from men's hearts and peace and safety come for all nations and peoples; OF ALL WHICH our loving subjects and all others whom these presents may concern are hereby required to take notice and to govern themselves accordingly."

RECONSECRATION WEEK PRAYER

O Lord of Hosts, in this time of our reconsecration to Thy service and in defence of the light brought into this world by Thy beloved Son, we turn to Thee in prayer.

We pray for our fighting men on land, on the sea and in the air that they may be imbued with courage to persevere and strength to vanquish the dark forces which now seek to rule this earth.

We pray for endurance for all those who, in any way, are engaged in this great conflict, and, for our peoples, understanding of the truth.

We pray for mercy for the stricken, consolation for the bereaved and eternal rest for those who, having blazed the path, have been gathered to Thine arms.

These things we ask, O Lord, so that in the fullness of time the dread conflict may cease, the right may triumph, and our children be brought up to serve Thee and to do those things which are of good renown, to know and to spread the Christian Light.—Amen.

RECONSECRATION WEEK GRACE

For the courage of our fighting men and the devotion of those who stand behind them; for our continued freedom and for these blessings of our unscarred earth, we give thanks in this week of reconsecration to the Lord of Hosts, who is the only Defender of the Right.—Amen.

DALES WOULD PROVIDE MORE MUSIC STUDY

NEWMARKET AND SUTTON CHOIR PERFORMS AT C.N.E.

DON CRIBAR PLAYS

More music in the schools was advocated by Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales, himself a pianist of ability, in a two-minute address at a C. N. E. luncheon on Monday.

"In days of victory and days of peace let us see that our children know and appreciate the beauties of music," Dr. Dales said. "Let us give them a better opportunity than our generation had."

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bastedo, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Gladman, A. N. Belugin, and Dr. and Mrs. Dales were luncheon guests from Newmarket. Other Newmarket citizens invited were unable to attend.

Mayor Frank Underhill and a group from Aurora, as well as a group from Sutton were present.

Following the luncheon a combined chorus from Newmarket and Sutton high schools, under the direction of Mrs. Marie Draper Lyons, sang beautifully, and Donald Cribar, 13 years old, of Newmarket, gave a lovely cornet solo. The program was broadcast. The choir sang again in the evening.

The Newmarket boys and girls went down by bus in the morning and returned in the evening after a pleasant day.

Record Beginners' Class Registers At Public Schools

First Year High School Attendance Takes Jump Upward, But Senior Classes Are Unusually Light

Newmarket's largest industry, employing nearly 1,000 persons, opened up again on Tuesday. Teachers and students, who threw down their tools and walked out at the end of June, returned to their desks at Newmarket high school, the three public schools and St. John's separate school.

Three hundred students registered at the high school on Tuesday, with not many more expected, Principal J. B. Bastedo stated.

There were 130 in the first year compared with 100 last year and a usual 105 to 110. The senior forms were lighter, however, due to students taking employment, and the total registration was not very different from last year.

The new course of study has now reached Grade XIII, except for history and two mathematics courses, which will be brought in next year. Grade XIII is the equivalent of the first year in university.

A new series of certificates has been introduced, Mr. Bastedo told the students Tuesday in the assembly hall. At the end of Grade X an intermediate certificate will be issued. At the end of Grade XII, in either commercial or matriculation courses, a high school graduation diploma is issued. On the completion of Grade XIII, the upper school, an honor graduation diploma is issued.

At St. John's separate school the Sisters of Providence were in charge for the first time, and welcomed the students back to their desks.

The largest registration of beginners that the public schools have ever had was attributed by Principal H. A. Jackson to the influx of new families to the town.

There were 71 beginners at the three schools, compared to 56 in 1938, 55 in 1939 and 55 in 1940. Total registration in the three schools was 562, compared with 511 in May, 1941.

Curricula and textbooks are unchanged, Mr. Jackson said. The only new staff member is James W. Darling, Tecumseh township, at the King George school.

Finalists Lose Two Home Games Each, Finish Tonight

MOUNT ALBERT AND KESWICK STRUGGLE FOR VICTORY

Here's a how-de-do!

Keswick and Mount Albert, fighting for the Lake Simcoe softball championship, have each lost two games in the playdowns. Both have lost their home games and, of course, have won their away-from-home games.

Mount Albert will be swamped with visitors tonight for the final game in the see-saw struggle, or should be!

Keswick defeated Mount Albert at Mount Albert 5-1 on Thursday night. Bill Lawton was pitching for Keswick, with Hodgins catching.

It was Keswick's best effort of the season. The score was 3-1 until the last inning. Keswick was at bat. With one man on, "Flash" Hollett hit a home run, a super home run, for eye could not see the ball it went so far, bringing in the two extra runs.

Ken Mitchell and Watts were the Mount Albert battery.

C. E. Cunningham, Canada Life man, Newmarket, was umpire-in-chief, with Herb Cain of Newmarket looking after the bases.

Mount Albert reversed the tables at Keswick on Tuesday evening. This was a close game, as the 3-2 score indicated. The scoring was done in the earlier part of the game.

C. E. Cunningham was umpire with Cecil Carpentier, Sutton, on the bases.

TELLS WHAT FARM WOMEN CONTRIBUTE

Representative of the United Farm Women of Ontario, Mrs. W. H. Wilmot of Sharon spoke on "The Countrywoman's Contribution to Canada's War Effort," at a Canadian National Exhibition luncheon on Wednesday.

LARGE WINS LITTLE TROPHY

The ladies' bowling club's annual tournament for the J. O. Little trophy was held on Labor day with a rink skipped by Robt. Large and composed of Mrs. Large, Vaughan Goring and Mrs. G. W. Luesby, the lucky winners.

High for two wins was S. R. Janes, with Mrs. Arthur Goring and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cockburn.

High for one win went to Chamney and rink of Richmond Hill.

Fred Chantler and Mrs. G. W. Luesby won the monthly tournament for the Leslie Reilly trophy at the Newmarket greens on Tuesday evening.

SOLDIER'S WIFE TAKES STRAND MANAGEMENT

In an interview with Raymond Allen, the director of amusements for the Premier Operating Corporation, The Era has learned of the appointment of a new manager at the Strand theatre to succeed S. J. Melzer, the company's advertising manager, who has been acting supervisor for the past year.

Mrs. Rosabell Druckman is the new resident manager of the theatre. She is the wife of Lieut. Sidney Druckman of the Irish Regiment of Canada, now with the O.T.C., at Brockville. On the completion of his course Lieut. Druckman will be attached to the armored division. At the outbreak of hostilities Mr. Druckman joined the newly reorganized C.O.T.C. at the University of Toronto, after which he was commissioned with the Irish Regiment.

Mrs. Druckman, who spent her early life in Winnipeg, has lived in Toronto for the last 12 years. She has given up her home there to move to Newmarket with her two children, Ellen Joan, 10, and Paul, four. She takes over her new duties this week.

Mrs. Druckman will be assisted by Roy Rhinehart, for many years connected with the Strand. Mr. Rhinehart is the popular president and one of the founders of the R.S.A. Bugle band which has won so many honors for Newmarket.

VISITING NEWMARKET, KILLED IN CAR CRASH

Visiting in Newmarket at the home of relatives, Mervin Fogal, 23, of Port Huron, Mich., nephew of Earl Fogal of Newmarket, was killed in a motor accident at the Newmarket locks, about two miles north of the town, last Thursday evening.

The accident was believed by police to have occurred about 11.15 on Thursday evening, but the victims of the crash were not discovered until eight hours later, when they were found by Jas. Stickwood.

The two other occupants of the car, Earl Fogal and Frank Ross, his brother-in-law, and driver of the car, were so badly injured that they were unable to get help. They were rushed to York county hospital when found and Mr. Fogal had some broken ribs, a broken arm and some teeth knocked out and Mr. Ross had a broken right leg and bad facial cuts. They are progressing favorably now.

The cause of the accident is not known, but the car hit the cement bridge over the Holland River with terrific force, almost demolishing the car.

The accident was investigated by Chief Constable Jas. Sloss of Newmarket and York County Constable Ronald Watt.

Increased Population Is Diphtheria Hazard - M.O.H.

TOXOID CLINIC TO BE HELD SOON, DR. J. H. WESLEY STATES

"Since the introduction of diphtheria toxoid as a preventative against diphtheria, the disease has been practically eliminated in some places," Dr. J. H. Wesley, M.O.H., told The Era this week.

"The concentration of a large number of young men at Newmarket from all parts of the country in the training camps of the armed forces increases the danger of an epidemic.

"Though there have been 811 children toxoided against diphtheria in the last five years, this is not considered sufficient, and the board of health requests that we hold another toxoid clinic in the schools this fall. So it is expected consent cards will be sent through the schools to the parents in order that the work may be completed during the fine weather."

REMEMBER WHEN YOU FIRST STARTED OUT?

At one of the Newmarket elementary schools on Tuesday the teacher told the beginners to bring erasers.

"What do they want with racers, Daddy?" asked one youngster as he pondered on which of his toy motor-cars he would take to school the next morning.

OPEN CONVENT

His Grace Most Rev. James C. McGuigan, archbishop of Toronto, and Capt. the Rev. W. D. Muckle, pastor of St. John's church, are seen at the reception to the Sisters of Providence who this week took charge of St. John's separate school. This snapshot was taken, following a service at the church, as the two clerics entered the convent grounds, by Lawrence Racine of The Era staff.

Mother Dies In Bomb Stricken Birmingham

Mrs. Jas. Cullen received a cable from Birmingham, England, last week, informing her of the death of her mother, Mrs. John Thistlewood, in Hackley, Birmingham, on Aug. 22. She was the former Nellie Court. The funeral was held on Tuesday of last week.

Mrs. Thistlewood was a widow and was on in years. She had been in ill health before the bombing of England began and when Birmingham was bombed a shelter was made under her home and her family carried her down to it when air raids occurred. Later on she was unable to be taken to the shelter.

TWO MINOR ACCIDENTS OCCUR IN TOWN

Yesterday at the corner of Water and Prospect Sts., a car driven by Mrs. Dorothy Stephenson of Armitage and a Gray Coach bus collided. The fenders and front of the car were damaged.

On Saturday a car driven by a soldier from Camp Borden crashed into a Hydro pole at Queen and Prospect St. Little damage was done.

DRUG STORES WILL CLOSE AT 9 P.M.

Newmarket drug stores will change to their winter closing schedule beginning next week. They will close in the evening one hour earlier, at 9 p.m., D.S.T. They are open all day on Wednesdays as usual.

IS SUDDENLY ILL

Real estate agent, E. A. Boyd suffered a sudden hemorrhage in his head while at his summer cottage at Lake Simcoe on Friday morning and was brought to Newmarket immediately. He is much better and is expected to be about again next week.

Wins Amateur Art Award At Exhibition

Mrs. S. E. Somerville of Newmarket R. R. 2 was a prize-winner at the amateur art show held this year at the Canadian National Exhibition. This was the first time such a show has been held at the C.N.E. and officials were amazed to receive 650 entries.

Mrs. Somerville was awarded second place in the water color, still life, class.

FAMILY MOVES

G. Shropshire and family moved from the corner of Church and Timothy Sts. to Mrs. E. J. Hill's house on the corner of Srigley and Prospect Ave. on Saturday.

MRS. ELMER STARR WILL SPEAK TO W.C.T.U.

The regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. will be held at the home of Mrs. Elliott Haines, Vincent St., north Main St., on Tuesday, Sept. 9, at 3 o'clock. A report of the summer school held at Willard Hall will be given by Mrs. Elmer Starr.

SHORTHORN CALVES WIN C. N. E. AWARDS

A number of boys of the Newmarket Calf club competed at the C.N.E. on Wednesday.

Those representing the club were Gordon and Perry Winch, Belhaven, Joe Clark, Queensville, David Weddell, Charles Crone and Howard Eves, Sharon, Jack Wanchope, Schomberg, Gordon Cook and Louis Cull, Kettleby.

The Shorthorn calf owned and shown by Charles Crone placed fourth in a class of 23 and a group of three Shorthorn heifers owned by Charles Crone, Joe Clark and Gordon Cook also placed fourth. In all York county had 28 entries in the Boys' Calf club competition.

EVANGELINE AUXILIARY WILL MEET ON SEPT. 9

The September meeting of the Evangeline Auxiliary of Trinity United church will be held on Tuesday evening, Sept. 9, at 8 p.m., in the Sunday-school room of Trinity United church. An executive meeting will be held at 7.30 p.m.

MARSHALL'S GROCERY WILL CLOSE DOORS

Marshall's grocery store is this month discontinuing business after 28 years of service in Newmarket at the same location.

The late proprietor, H. B. Marshall, died last December, and since his death the business has been carried on by his son, Aubrey.

Miss Lillian Smalley has just completed 25 years with this business.

Mr. Marshall was in business for 30 years, two as an employee and 28 as proprietor.

Queensville Farmer Gets 26 Selects Out Of 26 Hogs

ANOTHER FARMER HAS COLLECTED $80 IN PREMIUMS

Farmers are pleased with the price they are now getting for hogs, and are encouraged by the new contract with Britain to hope that the margin will be better next year, according to J. D. Murrell, Sharon trucker.

An increase in production will take time, Mr. Murrell thought in chatting with The Era, as district farmers have not been increasing their sows.

One of Mr. Murrell's customers, David English, Queensville, has collected $80 in premiums for selects.

Another, Thomas Swanson, Queensville, has sent out 26 pigs in the last two months and has secured 26 selects, with a combined bonus and premium of $52 accruing.

PLAY AT CAMP

There will be an exhibition hardball game between the champion Military Camp team and Newmarket All-Stars, at the camp on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. All proceeds go to the Toronto Telegram British War Victims' Fund.

EXPECT 1,500 TO ATTEND VIVIAN PICNIC

The York county reforestation committee, at a meeting yesterday at the county chambers, completed arrangements for their second annual reforestation and conservation picnic at the county forest at Vivian next Wednesday.

Last year over 1,100 attended and it is expected that the attendance will reach 1,500 this year. The committee is working in co-operation with the public school inspectors and the agricultural representative.

The Newmarket branch are co-operating with the Vivian unit of the Red Cross and will serve pie, coffee and doughnuts on the grounds. There will also be an exhibit of Red Cross work.

Hon. Norman O. Hipel, minister of lands and forests, will address the gathering following the basket lunch.

TURKEYS HELP IN THE VICTORY CAMPAIGN

The V for Victory propaganda has reached the North York turkeys, too, for they seem to be assisting in the campaign.

Mrs. Wm. Reid of Pine Orchard sent three turkey eggs to The Era office last Friday which were quite clearly marked with white V's. The white V markings were in decided contrast to the brown-speckled eggs. The normal turkey egg is speckled brown all over, Miss Helen Reid, Mrs. Reid's daughter, told The Era.

UNLIMITED MARKET FOR HOGS IS SEEN

"From 290,000,000 lbs. to 600,000,000 lbs. of bacon, the first contract to the new contract, is a terrific jump, and it would look as though there is an unlimited market for hogs next year," W. M. Cockburn, York county agricultural representative, told The Era.

"The price on the first contract was $20.18 for 112 lbs. at seaboard for Grade A Wiltshire sides or $18.01 per cwt. On this contract it is up to $22 per 112 lbs."

Mr. Cockburn said that substantially increased production was to be expected in western Canada, according to present information.

99 PERCENT ENLIST

The trainees called up for training at the local camp on Aug. 1 have volunteered for active service 99.7 percent, Major L. W. Sharpe, district recruiting officer, reports.

STORING WHEAT IN EARTH

Chatting with the York county agricultural representative the other day, we were given an interesting new (to us) angle on the western Canada bonuses for not growing wheat. This is the way Mr. Cockburn explained it: "Last year western farmers grew more wheat than the elevators could handle, and the dominion government had to help the farmers with the cost of building granaries on the farms to store it. This year the government is paying them to store the surplus in the ground, and to harvest it in 1942, when it will likely be needed. The government is not paying western farmers for doing nothing. It is paying them for summer fallowing some of their land, and they must keep cultivating it. They work for what they get."

MR. KING GETS HIS WINGS

Prime Minister Mackenzie King took his life in his hands and flew to England—his first flight of any kind. There seems to be general applause for Mr. King's visit to Britain, and also recognition that Canada has so far made a pretty large contribution to the war effort. While we recognize room for great difference of opinion on the subject, our own inclination would be to see Canada taking a greater share in shaping war and after-war policy.

WELL SAID, ANTHONY EDEN

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden is credited with the following commendable statement of war aims: "1. No nation must ever be in a position to wage aggressive war against her neighbors. 2. Economic relations must be so regulated that no nation in the future can be starved out of its proper position by autarchic methods of trade arbitrarily imposed."

Mr. Eden says "no nation," thereby repudiating the frequently expressed thought that the English-speaking nations, after this war, should constitute themselves the policemen of the world. Mr. Eden's statement, if it is correctly reported, is rather different from the Churchill-Roosevelt statement which would keep the victors armed and disarm the losers. It also restates in a negative way the splendid Churchill-Roosevelt economic opportunity for all plank.

BYGONE DAYS IN BRADFORD

A former school teacher whose name isn't given writes interesting recollections of former times in Bradford in the Bradford Witness. Newmarket people are familiar with the name Stoddart, and others will know of the Bradford Stoddarts from the interesting book, "Yellow Briar," a popular volume of a few years ago. The writer of the Bradford reminiscences has been looking at Bradford examination lists. "I noticed that Burton Stoddart passed the entrance examination. Burt. was in the junior third class with me back in the 80's and I am glad to see that he has stuck to it till he has finally made the entrance—or might it possibly be a grandson of the original Burton, the one who once ran a footrace with Finch Stibbs for a bag of marbles?"

Now take this interesting glimpse into old times on Bradford's main street:

"You will need to be quite old timers in Bradford to remember the Dowler Bros.' big store in the days when there was big business in Bradford. The brothers were James in Bradford and Frank in Barrie. The big brick block in which the store was located was known as the Stoddart block and belonged to Mr. Wilson Stoddart.

"The Dowler store was in two sections with a wide doorway for each. In the west section was the groceries and, I think, boots and shoes, while the east part was given up to dry goods. The salespeople in the latter department were in a class by themselves—no grocery clerking for them.

"Up a couple of steps at the rear of the grocery department was the measuring, cutting and fitting department, and that was where you went when you wanted a suit of clothes and here, behind his long cutting table, you found Jim Rowney. The clothes were made in the tailoring room upstairs. It was to work in this room that Hose Wilkinson came to Bradford in 1889 and as you old-timers will remember, he was one of the 'slickest' stick-handlers that old lacrosse town ever had. That was a little digression—now to get back to Dowler's store.

"In a large front room upstairs a flourishing millinery business was carried on under the efficient direction of a prepossessing red-haired young lady named May Jamieson from 'over the bridge.' I am not sure if May's fair-haired sister, Hannah, worked with her or not, but I think she did. I think there was a dressmaking department in the store, too.

"In this same block, to the east of Dowler's store, with a hall and stairway separating them, was another large store, occupied in the late 80's and in the early 90's as a jewellery and hardware store by the late Robert and Joseph Neilly. It was from the Neillys that I bought my watch—which I still carry—when I started to teach, and also my first bicycle, which was also the first bicycle owned in Bradford.

"I just mentioned a hallway between Dowler's and Neilly's—well, that opened on the street, and up the stairs to the left was the Witness office, and to the right a public library and reading room. This was a three-storey block and I believe the Masons had their lodge room in the top storey. Next door to Neilly's, William Prosser had a boot and shoe shop, but I am not sure it was part of the Stoddart block—I think not. This block stood on the main northeast corner, where the telephone office is now, and was destroyed in the great fire of 1892. I believe I have written part of this before, but Jim Rowney's name brought it up again."

VENEREAL DISEASE INCREASES

Ryerson Press publishes a little booklet called "Marked for Tragedy," which gives the tragic family history of three generations of an American family suffering from syphilis. The story appeared in the United States two years ago under the title "Twenty Years After." It was 20 years after the Great war, during which the third generation was infected, just as the previous two had been in the Civil war and the Spanish-American war. The booklet is timely, and if copies of it could only reach every soldier in this war it might save thousands of family tragedies. It may be obtained from the Ryerson Press, Toronto, at 25 cents a copy.

It is brought to a close with an article by Dr. Gordon Bates, director of the Health League of Canada, reprinted from "Health," in which he states that since 1920 half a million Canadians have been brought under treatment for venereal disease as the result of a vigorous dominion-provincial campaign. "The result of these factors and advances in treatment is that venereal disease so far at least has not been as serious a matter in the present war as in the 1914-1918 conflict. Yet the authorities are taking no chances lest war is followed by its usual result—an increase in venereal disease incidence." An editor's note adds: "Latest reports from reliable sources state that the venereal diseases are on the increase with alarming rapidity."

THE POSTMASTER'S SERVICE STATION

Somewhere we read that one result of gasoline saving would be a blessing to rural housewives. They will be relieved, said the writer, of spending all day Sunday preparing meals for their city cousins. Unhappy result of such staying at home, however, would be little "weekending" news for The Era. The ladies of rural North York, we think, have the true spirit of hospitality and, while they may sigh after the guests depart, read with satisfaction in The Era on the following Friday that they entertained graciously, and are fortified to welcome more guests that very weekend!

So we picture disappointment in many a rural home in these gasoline-saving days as the housewife looks and looks and looks down the driveway for "company" and nobody comes. There will be some "visiting" of course, but there will be less. What will take its place? A return to reading, including, perhaps, some of our forgotten English classics, may be one happy by-product. There may be even a renaissance of the letter-writing art. What happiness and satisfaction there is to be found in thoughtful and informative correspondence between friends. And remember that there is no shortage of postage stamps. The more we use of that commodity the more we help our country's war effort. And what wonderful value we get, too, in return for money spent in postage stamps.

TRANS-ATLANTIC REVERIES

The well-known editor of the Fergus News-Record, Hugh Templin, on the eve of a flight to Britain as a member of the representative press party that Prime Minister Mackenzie King forgot to take over with him, has received an invitation to address the Canadian Institute on Sewage and Sanitation. Mr. Templin, who has faced all kinds of audiences, confesses that he feels a bit flabbergasted by the invitation, and seems rather glad that he has a good excuse for not accepting.

In the very next column, however, Mr. Templin belies the suggestion that he is not qualified to speak on sanitation by producing an interesting dissertation on dogs and garbage pails. The sanitary engineers, of course, expect to hear something from Mr. Templin about sewage disposal along his beloved Grand river.

Incidentally, the Fergus writer suspects that George Drew's trans-Atlantic plane "may take him other places than London—into the race for the dominion Conservative leadership, for instance." For ourselves, we can't see Col. Drew going far in that race. Although a fine gentleman, Col. Drew has hardly made a success of the Ontario leadership. He has made little effective criticism of the highly vulnerable Hepburn government, and could hardly expect a promotion for what he hasn't done.

COURAGE IN PUBLIC MEN

Courage in men of public affairs always commands respect. Without pretending to know anything of Australian public affairs, we confess admiration for Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies who handed his job over to a colleague with the public statement: "A frank discussion among my cabinet colleagues has shown that while there is personal good-will toward me, many feel I am unpopular with large sections of the press and people, and that this unpopularity handicaps effectiveness of the government." From now on, we guess, Mr. Menzies is going to be increasingly popular in Australia.

It is the same quality of courage which is Premier Mitchell Hepburn's greatest asset. There is plenty against "Mitch" but we all like his forthrightness. "Mitch" calls a spade a spade. We do confess that we sometimes wonder whether it is courage or just recklessness. During his 1934 campaign when the young Elgin county farmer was telling us all about the sins of the Henry government—sins in some respects less and in some respects worse than the Hepburn sins—he spoke in the Newmarket town hall. "Mitch" was talking about Geo. S. Henry, that highly successful York county farmer who had the misfortune to become the prime minister of Ontario. "Mitch's" story was about a man who was selling a horse. The vendor turned the horse loose in a field so that the buyer could see the horse perform. The horse ran head-on into a tree. "He's blind," said the buyer. "No, he's not blind, he just doesn't give a d—-," said the seller.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

A SPORTING EVENT

(Smiths Falls Record-News)

Since his arrival in the mother country the prime minister has been a busy man. He has visited the Canadian troops over there and was well received, although some press despatches state that he was given a mixed greeting of cheers and boos, while attending a Canadian military sports event. One newspaper, ever ready to play politics and display antagonism toward Mr. King, played up the "boos" editorially, which in our opinion, was cheap political journalism. In referring to his "mixed greeting" after, Mr. King smilingly said to the press reporters: "It was a usual sports event where both sides were free to express their own views." The answer of a sportsman and the proper attitude to take. During the Great War Canadian soldiers booed Arthur Meighen and the late Sir Robert Borden and Sir Sam Hughes, but nobody took them seriously. This last episode should also be so treated.

Mr. King is holding conferences with Prime Minister Churchill and other great government and military leaders in the mother country. No doubt tremendous issues are being discussed. He will be given full details of the recent Churchill-Roosevelt meeting on the high seas; also information regarding Russia's part now being executed in the war, and the latter should enable him to better formulate a policy for Canada toward the Soviet (which had not been done prior to his departure), upon his return to Canada.

Here are some things the prime minister will see in Britain, as outlined by the St. Catharines Standard:

1. Conscription of men and women, high and low, and their consecration to the common cause of defeating the tyranny of Hitler.

2. Conscription of labor. He will not witness slow-down or shut-down strikes in the kingdom. He will find miners working at high tempo to produce coal, and stevedores under compulsion to unload ships at any and all hours necessary.

3. Conscription of wealth to a degree in taxation which just about amounts to socialism in our day.

4. Equality of sacrifice, equality of service, the unity of a great race of people cemented by inspired, far-sighted and aggressive leadership in Churchill.

5. A war government not confined to one party but made up of the best men of all parties, and the best governing brains of the kingdom.

NEWSPAPERS IN WARTIME

(Fergus News-Record)

It has been pointed out that with the amalgamation of two papers in Durham, there are now only eight towns left in all western and central Ontario with two weekly newspapers. We don't know how true that may be. We know there are two papers in Orillia, for we see them both every week, and both are lively and large newspapers. We know there are two in Bracebridge, Newmarket and Brampton, and farther east, two in Picton and two in Trenton, and, we think, two in Cobourg. If there are others, we can't recall them now.

Obviously, the day is coming when none of these towns will have two papers. Wartime hastens the weeding-out process, for costs rise and profits drop, and even one-paper towns may not be able to keep some of their papers if the war lasts long enough. In at least two of the towns mentioned, we know that editors of one paper are trying to buy out their opposition. If they try long enough, they'll succeed.

Here in Wellington county, Mount Forest was the last two-paper town. Clifford and Hillsburg used to have papers where there is none now. Several other towns, including Fergus, were two-paper towns in years gone by. In those days, it didn't cost much to get together a newspaper plant and labor was poorly paid. Around election time, at least, political parties helped to keep their newspapers alive. In fact, fancy political promises, usually soon forgotten, resulted in the establishment of many old-time newspapers.

Reports from Moscow on Wednesday indicated that the Germans were halted almost along the entire front for the sixth successive day. Terrific Russian counter-drives extending from the defences of Leningrad to the Crimea had so shattered the German armies that they had been forced to move troops from the west coast invasion front and had thus considerably weakened their position against Britain.

The Common Round

SPICY DAYS

By Isabel Inglis Colville

When we lived in town, I remember that at this time of year "where'er you walked" the air seemed full of a spicy incense and it made you want to rush home and sit down and eat large quantities of bread and butter and fresh chili sauce.

One cool morning last week I came in with a basket of tomatoes and stood still a moment recalling those far off days.

No doubt I looked sort of dazed, for mother said "What on earth's the matter—are you composing a sonnet or a new recipe for chili sauce?"

"Neither," I told her. "Just remembering how nice the streets in Brockville used to smell at this time of year."

"Yes—didn't they," said she with a reminiscent smile. "But I can't see how it's any pleasanter to recall it with a heavy basket of tomatoes in your hand."

"Well, perhaps not," said I as I laid them down. "They are a bit heavy."

"I might as well peel them and get them ready for the making; and I'm going to try a new recipe, too," I informed mother and Speck, who both looked as if they doubted my ability to concentrate sufficiently to get results. Anyway, I started to peel tomatoes, and, just as I had gotten to a nice moist, juicy state, the telephone rang.

"Oh dear!" said I, while mother said, with the decision of Bruce before Bannockburn, "I will NOT answer—you know I never do," she added as she caught my despairing eye. Grabbing the first thing which came to hand—it happened to be a nice clean tea towel, I gave my hands an insufficient wipe and took down the receiver while little trickles of tomato juice chased each other cheerily up my arm.

"Well," I demanded sternly.

"Oh yes!" babbled a voice. "Your honey—you know—so good last year. Can we have the same amount this year?"

"We have no bees, no honey—nothing!" said I flatly.

"Oh but we LIKED it last year," wailed the voice.

"We NEVER had bees," said I, as the last drops of tomato juice dropped on my apron, "and never EXPECT to have any," I added, for good measure.

"I must have the wrong number," said the voice reluctantly.

"You must," I agreed and returned to my tomatoes.

"How many things are you putting in?" asked mother, "It seems to me it will be queer."

"I'm just putting in this and that," said I, "and when you taste it, I'm sure you won't think it queer."

"It's to be hoped not," she murmured, somewhat sceptically, "I'm afraid.

However, when she and my better half sampled it, they agreed I "had something there."

"Now that's chili sauce, that IS chili sauce," said the man of the house. "It's got more—well—more of something," he finished. "Anyway, it suits me," and he proceeded to demonstrate to that effect.

So, seeing its favorable reception, and knowing that every woman at this time of year turns to chili sauce, as surely as "in the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love," I am passing on the recipe.

- 1 six quart basket tomatoes
- 4 large or 6 small peaches
- 2 large apples
- 2 pears
- 6 or 8 plums—any kind
- 1 banana
- 6 medium sized onions
- 3 teaspoons salt
- 1 pepper or ½ teaspoon cayenne
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- ¼ teaspoon cloves
- ¼ teaspoon allspice
- 3 cups granulated sugar
- 2¾ cups vinegar

Boil all together, stirring frequently, till thick—about three hours does it, and let me know if you like it.

Benjamin Franklin was invariably prompt in the performance of his public duties, and grew weary when they could not be consummated with reasonable dispatch.

Once after giving a great deal of time to a public matter, with no end in sight, he remarked, "I begin to be a little of the sailor's mind when they were handing a cable out of a store into a ship and one of 'em said: ' 'Tis a long, heavy cable. I wish we could see the end of it.' 'Bless my soul,' said another, 'if I believe it has any end. Somebody has cut it off.' "

POLICE COURT

SOLDIER STOPS PAL FROM RIFLING STATION

Even Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe had to suppress a smile when Sgt. Thomas Cooper of the Royal Engineers was giving his evidence in the case of Cpl. Ernest J. Young, in Newmarket police court Tuesday. The latter was charged with illegal possession of liquor, wilfully damaging the Canadian National Railways station and breaking and entering. Similar charges against Sgt. Cooper were withdrawn at the request of the crown.

"On the night of Aug. 25, we both went out on a tear, myself and Cpl. Young," stated the sergeant, who is stationed at Newmarket military camp. "We went to various places to have a drink and then went back to camp to answer nine-thirty roll-call. After that I was standing at my bed when Young came up and said 'I have a fin ($5), let's go get some beer.'

"I went with him," continued the witness. "We stopped a fellow on Timothy St. and asked him where we could get some beer. He said that he didn't have any but we could get some if we went to the railway station."

"Did you get the beer there?" asked Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K.C.

"Ah, yes, we arranged to have the booze delivered there. A soldier who said he was 'a.w.l.' was there. I couldn't see his face."

Sgt. Cooper went on to say that he did not know who broke the window in the station but that he heard the crash as he went behind the railway station to get the beer. He said that a civilian and the soldier who was "a.w.l." were up the street at the time.

Questioned as to the defendant's actions, the witness said that they were about six feet from the corner of the station. "I advised him to get out as the window was broken. I couldn't get him away. He said, 'Here is where we get rich!' I said, 'Not while you're with me.' "

"Did he get rich?" asked the crown.

"No, he didn't, sir, and he didn't go through that window either. I had to use force to get him away, which we did smartly."

"You did get him away?"

"Yes, too quickly. We didn't get our beer finished." He added that while at the station he had been quite busy moving the beer from one place to the other so as to keep it out of danger.

"In what condition was Mr. Young?" Magistrate Woodliffe asked Sgt. Cooper.

"Well sir, I had my head, I don't know what his was," was the reply. "He was under the influence of liquor. He wasn't boozed up though."

Asked if the defendant gave any reason why he wanted to get through the station window, the witness said: "I told him he wouldn't get a dime in it. He said that if he had got money orders he could have used them in Buffalo."

"On the evening of Aug. 25 at 1230, as a result of a phone call from Constable Mount, I went to the Canadian National railway station by way of Prospect St.," testified Chief Constable James Sloss, Newmarket. "I noticed Ernest Young and Thomas Cooper walking east on Huron. I then went to the station and saw where the window had been broken on the west side of the station. Constable Mount and I went to Prospect St. and were present when Young and Cooper were picked up by Corporal Daniard. They were taken to the guard house at the Newmarket military camp."

Chief Sloss testified that when he returned to the railway station he found a piece of glass with fingerprints on it, which he sent to Toronto to be examined by an expert. He also overheard Cooper say to the defendant in the police station, "If it hadn't been for me you would have had the C.N.R. station cleaned."

Constable Kenneth Mount corroborated the previous witness's statement, adding that he had received a call from two youths who heard the glass being broken while they were waiting for a freight train.

According to Grant Sine, Newmarket, clerk at the C.N.R. station when he had left the premises the previous night at 7 o'clock S.T. the windows and doors had been locked. Money order blanks and money were the only things left in the station. He said that four windows had been broken two or three weeks previously.

When called to the witness-stand, Detective Oliver Borland, fingerprint expert of the Toronto police force, testified that the print on the piece of glass sent him by Chief Constable Sloss and the print taken of Private Young's right thumb were identical.

The crown advised his worship that the defendant had a long record.

"This is a terrible record," commented the magistrate.

"I've always been mixed up with someone else," stated the defendant.

"You seem to have been mixed up with someone all the time," replied his worship.

"That is why I joined the army, to keep out of trouble."

"And then you got into trouble. In this case there is evidence that you were under the influence of liquor, which made you break your good intentions. You go to the common jail for a definite term of 60 days hard labor on the breaking and entering charge. With that record I consider I'm being quite easy with you."

His worship also fined the defendant $10 and costs or ten days on the illegal possession charge. The term of ten days is to run concurrent with the 60-day term. The charge of malicious damage was dismissed.

Pleading guilty to being drunk in a dance hall at Musselman's Lake, Robert C. Taylor, Toronto, was fined $10 and costs or ten days. Constable Robert Windon told his worship that he saw the defendant grab a girl around the waist and that another girl hit him on the head with a flashlight.

"He created quite a disturbance," stated the officer. Mr. Taylor told the court that he was 29 years of age and that it was the first time he had been drinking.

"This offence to which you pleaded guilty is a very serious one," Magistrate Woodliffe told Alice Lupu, Toronto, found guilty of bigamy in police court last week and remanded in custody for sentence until this week. "However, on the evidence I am inclined to be far more lenient that I have ever been before. I am taking into consideration your age, 17 years, your unhappy married life and your honesty. I am satisfied that you are remorseful and sorry for what you have done. I am inclined to think it a juvenile thing that you have done. It was silly. However, it is not in my power to place you on suspended sentence. You go to jail for one month starting from today."

A 17-year-old youth who was found guilty in police court last week of stealing $13 from Mrs. Charles Sedore, Ravenshoe, and remanded in custody for one week was placed on probation.

"It is his first offence," pointed out the crown. "The family have had trouble with the boy for a long time. I understand that his former employer is willing to let him work a month on his farm and make restitution."

Asked by his worship if he had spent all the money he had taken, the youth said that he had.

"It didn't take you long to get rid of it," commented the magistrate. "I am going to place you on probation subject to conditions.

"Those conditions are, that you pay Mrs. Sedore and the costs of court, that you go back to your former employer and not leave unless with the approval of the probation officer, and after the month is up there that you go to your father's and stay with him and not leave there without the approval of the probation officer. You must report to the officer at intervals."

Testifying in the case of Murray Stein, Toronto, charged with careless driving, Constable Joseph Jardine stated that on July 6, while driving north from Queensville, a car driven by the defendant cut short in front of him and then cut out to pass a car, a bus and another car. Later the same driver cut out to pass six or seven other cars.

"I stopped the car and told the driver that he was driving in a careless manner and he said that he did not think he was," testified Constable Jardine. "I had received a number of complaints about careless driving on the road, so that is why I was watching the drivers." The officer further stated that traffic was heavy at the time the defendant was passing the other cars.

In his defence Mr. Stein stated that he was going at about 40 miles an hour and that "an old car" in front of the truck was holding up traffic.

Magistrate Woodliffe fined the defendant $5 and costs.

A similar fine was imposed on Anthony Battaglia, Jackson's Point, who also was charged with careless driving.

According to Constable Jardine, on Aug. 19, he investigated an accident in East Gwillimbury in which a car driven by the defendant was turned over in the ditch. "I found that the car had covered a distance of about 250 feet in a very irregular manner," he stated. "For the last 52 feet it had apparently slid on its side." The officer added that although it had been raining previously the pavement was dry.

"I might say that I said to the accused when we were talking later that night, that it looked like a case of speeding around the corner and he said it was," Constable Jardine further stated.

In his defence Mr. Battaglia stated that he had lost control of his car and couldn't get it back on the road.

Pleading guilty to a charge of dangerous driving in Sutton, T. C. Shearer, Pefferlaw, was fined $10 and costs or ten days and his license was suspended for one month.

"I was on traffic duty on the main corner in Sutton on Aug. 16 when I noticed the accused, Shearer, drive down Dalton St. at a fast rate of speed," testified Constable William Burke. "He failed to stop at the stop sign and made a wide left turn onto High St. I flagged him to stop. He applied his brakes but did not stop."

The officer stated that the defendant nearly hit some boys who were at the side of the road and then continued until he came to the hospital before stopping. He said that when he asked the driver why he did not stop, he said that he was in a hurry to get a cheque cashed before the banks closed and get back to the brewery. The officer said that he found two half dozen cases of empties in his car and the defendant himself was under the influence of liquor.

"Did you let him go?" asked the crown. The constable said that he did.

"The next time don't let the person go when he is under the influence of liquor," advised the crown. "Especially if he is in a hurry to get back to the brewery."

In his defence Mr. Shearer told his worship that he was in a hurry and that he did not see the youths at the side of the road.

Magistrate Woodliffe found George Rowe, Toronto, guilty of having liquor in his car, which was parked in the Jackson's Point park and fined him $15 and costs or ten days.

Constable William Hill testified that at 2 a.m. on July 22 he noticed the car in the park. He found two or three empty bottles on the ground outside and half a case of full pint bottles in the car.

The defendant told his worship that he had intended to rent a cabin but could not get one to rent. Some friends drank the beer with him.

"You can only drink beer in your own place of residence," stated Magistrate Woodliffe.

Magistrate Woodliffe again adjourned the case of Joseph Myers, Newmarket, charged with illegal possession and careless driving. Constable Alex Ferguson advised his worship that the defendant had had a leg fractured and that it had not healed as yet.

In order that the crown might get in touch with additional witnesses the case of Harry Mair and Thomas Wright, Toronto, charged with manslaughter, was adjourned for two weeks.

Other cases adjourned until Sept. 9 were Albert Furnier, Toronto, charged with assault, and John Napier, Toronto, charged with dangerous driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

Motorists fined for exceeding the speed limit were:

On Yonge St.: Dan Leonard, Hamilton, $10 and costs; Eva Spearn, Toronto, and Salvador Polito, Toronto, each fined $5 and costs.

Speeding through Aurora: W. J. Elliott, John Carigan, National Motors Ltd., and J. W. Banks, all of Toronto, each fined $8 and costs; M. S. Eisen, Frank B. Ham and Co. and Robert Gordon, all of Toronto, each fined $5 and costs.

Speeding in North Gwillimbury: Robert Jeffery, Toronto, $10 and costs; Fred Bauckham, Toronto, Donald Gladden, Sutton, John Ellis, Toronto, each fined $8 and costs, and A. Stainman and Sons, Toronto, $6 and costs.

Speeding in East Gwillimbury: Isobel Scott, Dundas, Sidney France, Bob Edwards, both of Toronto, each fined $8 and costs; Nathan Kwinter, Toronto, fined $7 and costs.

Speeding in Newmarket: Albert Aylward, Toronto, $5 and costs.

Lorne C. Lee, defence counsel for D. Williams in local police court two weeks ago, informed The Era that it was Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe and not he who said about the defendant, "This boy is just stupid."

CHIPS AND HIS CHUMS

THE CHICKADEES HAVE A FAMILY CONFAB

BY RUTH DINGMAN HEBB

"September is a most exciting month," Merry Chickadee said solemnly to her assembled family one morning. "However, it is a time when you need to be particularly on your guard against danger."

"We know all about that, Mother," one of the young Chickadees said impatiently. "You've told us so often about the dangers of being surprised by cats and Hawks. I'm sure we can all look after ourselves splendidly."

"Maybe so, but just the same I want you to remember that this month the menace of the Hawks is much greater than any danger that you may have experienced before," the Chickadee mother replied.

"Are the Hawks getting hungrier this month?" asked another of the young Chickadee family.

"Well, at least it would be very true to say that in this district the Hawks eat far more small birds in September than they do in August or July," Young Chips, their father, remarked at this point.

"That seems rather silly, doesn't it?" young Jimmy Chickadee said.

"Oh, I know why," his young brother piped up. "It's because there are more Hawks around in September."

"I was hoping that there would be one member of the family bright enough to see through that," said Young Chips with a sigh of relief. "It would have grieved me greatly if no one had. Of course there are more Hawks around in September. That's just what your mother is trying to make clear to you. In September the migratory Hawks, that is, the ones that move south for the winter months, come down here from farther north and begin to gather into flocks. Then later they will go on farther south."

"If that's the case perhaps we had better be rather careful," the cautious member of the family, a Chickadee named Tiny, put in. "I certainly wouldn't like to meet a whole flock of Hawks. One is bad enough."

"It couldn't be any worse than the scare I had last night," one of her brothers told her. "I don't think I've ever been so alarmed in all my life.

"Why, what in the world happened?" inquired Merry, anxiously. "You didn't tell me anything was wrong. Surely you weren't threatened by an Owl, were you? That's another peril that you must all watch out for just now, too."

"No, it wasn't an Owl," the young Chickadee told her. "The trouble was that I didn't know what it was. I was just falling asleep in a nice pine tree branch. Just as I began to doze off something horrible brushed past me like a ghost in the darkness. It wasn't terribly dark yet, as a matter of fact, because I always go to bed fairly early."

"Mercy, how frightful," Tiny said with a shudder. "I'm sure I would have fallen off the branch. What did you do?"

"I was still trembling when it brushed past me again," related the little Chickadee to his horror-struck audience. "I had an uncanny feeling that it wasn't a fellow bird. It wasn't terribly large, but it was such a weird, silent, clammy sort of creature. That was what scared me. I've never believed in ghosts, but I'm sure it must have been a ghost. I had nightmares all the rest of the night."

"Well, you needn't worry any longer," said Merry firmly, "because I'm quite sure it was a bat. I saw several bats myself last night. I think there must have been a whole family out practising flying. And you're quite right, bats certainly aren't birds, they're mammals, and they are indeed peculiar and rather alarming creatures when they swoop close to you. But they couldn't do you any harm, so you needn't be frightened of them again."

"I'm glad to know it wasn't a ghost, anyhow," said the young Chickadee, "but I can't say I like the idea of having bats swooping round me, either. Owls and Hawks and bats and cats—what a hope!"

"Surely there's something cheerful about September, too," Jimmy remarked. "I thought you said that it was a lovely month for weather."

"Yes, it is, almost the nicest of the year," said Merry. "And it's an exciting month, as we'll see lots and lots of birds. They visit here briefly, a lot of them, and then go along on their journey south."

"And, of course, a number of our own friends will begin to get restless and before the end of the month will have joined a flock of their own kind and started southwards, too," added Young Chips.

"I'm looking forward to seeing some of the migrating Warblers," said one of the youngsters. "I wonder whether we will be able to tell who they are."

"You'll probably guess some of them wrong," said the Chickadee father. "Even I will have a very hard time figuring out who's who. You youngsters aren't as handsome as your parents, you know. Not yet a while, anyway, and that's what makes identifying the birds so confusing."

"It's a good thing, too," Merry chirped. "The young ones are so inclined to be superior and know-it-all that if it weren't for the fact of their inferior looks they would be impossible to get along with at times."

"Now, don't be too hard on them, my dear," said Young Chips. "I think we have a pretty fine little family—as nice a group of little Chickadees as you'd see anywhere. And so far they all seem to think they will stay here with us and spend the winter."

"Oh, I wasn't referring to our own family—oh my no!" said Merry quickly. "Of course, they aren't like that. It's other people's children that I mean."

"Oh, I see what you mean now," Young Chips replied with a twinkle in his tiny eye.

"ENNUI"

A very dull play was talked of, and one attempted a defence by saying, "It was not hissed."

"True," said another, "no one can hiss and yawn at the same time."

WHEN OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

"I think we were smart the day we opened a Bank of Toronto Savings Account".

"Yes, you're right. Some day there will be a business opportunity and cash in the Bank will not only enable us to take advantage of it, but the connection with The Bank of Toronto will be helpful. Systematic saving is a great thing. When we opened a Savings Account at The Bank of Toronto it started us on the road to independence".

LOCAL MARKET

Eggs were up in price over the previous week at the local market on Saturday. Prices were 35 and 38 cents, as compared with 35 and 36 cents the week before.

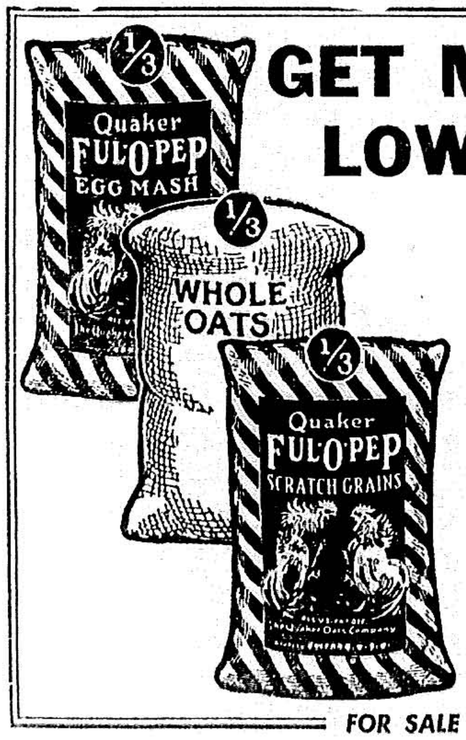

Butter was the same, 38 and 40 cents a pound. Elderberries were being sold for 20 cents a basket and ten cents a quart box. Honey was four pounds for 55 cents and 15 cents a comb. Plums were ten cents a quart box. Cucumbers sold at three for five cents and apples for 30 cents a basket. Young chickens were 22 cents a pound.

TORONTO MARKETS

Prices on the Toronto market on Tuesday for butter, creamery solids, No. 1, were 36½ to 36¾ cents a pound and prints were 38 cents for first grade.

Graded eggs were quoted to the country dealers, cases free, delivered to Toronto, at 39½ to 41 cents for grade A large, and 38½ to 40 cents a dozen for grade A medium. This was up several cents from a week ago. Selling prices to the retail trade were 44 cents for grade A large and 43 cents for grade A medium.

Prices in the cattle section were: weighty steers, $8.50 to $9.60, butcher steers and heifers, $8 to $9, fed calves, $9 to $11. Choice veal calves sold at $12.50 to $13. Good ewe and wether lambs sold at $11.50. Hogs traded at $14.65 dressed weight.

All Good Plain Cooks Should Try Their Luck, Because Unscrambling Eggs Is No Hard Trick

The contest must have been quite a stickler last week. Only 16 contestants sent in perfect answers. The answers were as follows: guest, month, handle or heated, milkers, weight, garden, margin or asking, lodge, geldings and range. In a few cases other words, including proper names, were sent in and such answers, though not listed, were counted correct where they met the conditions.

Lyman B. Rose, Newmarket business man, drew the five winners from the 16 as follows: Mrs. Cecil Gibson, Newmarket, Mrs. E. Woolven, Newmarket, Mrs. Arthur Evans, Newmarket, Mrs. A. Thompson, Newmarket, and Miss Lottie Tansley, Sharon. Several of these contestants have won before, and Miss Tansley wins the third week in succession, so you see, whether you have won before in no way affects your chance of winning again.

These five winners will receive double passes to the Strand for next Tuesday or next Thursday night's show and may pick up their passes any evening at the theatre or on the night they attend.

Again the billings have been changed from those announced last week and on Tuesday there will be a return engagement of the first army camp laugh riot, "Buck Privates," starring Abbott and Costello. The second feature will be "Melody for Three," one of the Dr. Christian series.

Next Thursday evening the pictures will be Errol Flynn and Brenda Marshall in "Footsteps in the Dark" and Clive Brook and Diana Wynyard in a British spy picture, "Wilhelmstrasse 110." Take your choice!

THIS WEEK'S CONTEST

Five more double passes will be given to winners of this week's contest. Answers must reach The Era office by 9.30 a.m. on Tuesday morning. If more than five sets of correct answers are sent in a Newmarket business man will be asked to draw the winners.

Winners will have a choice of seeing Walt Disney's technicolor cartoon feature, "Reluctant Dragon," with Robert Benchley, and "Two in a Taxi" as an added feature, on Tuesday evening, Sept. 16, or the story of American air rearmament, "I Wanted Wings," starring Brian Donlevy, Ray Milland, Wm. Holden and the new screen discovery, Veronica Lake, and "Dulcy," starring Ann Sothern in one of her best comedies, supported by Ian Hunter and Billie Burke, on Thursday, Sept. 18.

This week the contest will be plain scrambled eggs, we mean words, without any frills such as ham, cheese or tomatoes. The ten jumbles can all be unscrambled to make words which appear in this week's classified ads. Here they are: eelsap, cusote, gebevleat, niwigdel, siexeleyu, phigtur, dyllaessa, pafybeerlr, ratsreedvi, ootiinrpsop.

WANT-ADS

The rate for Want Ads is 25 cents for 25 words for one insertion; 40 cents for two insertions; 50 cents for three insertions. For over 25 words, each additional word, one insertion, one cent, additional insertions, one-half cent per insertion.

HAS HEARD BULLETS WHISTLE, HE CAN TOO

Rev. Geoffrey W. Royall of Toronto, who has recently returned from the interior of occupied China, will be the guest speaker at the local Church of the Nazarene, where Rev. H. V. Muxworthy is the minister, on Friday evening at 8 p.m.

During his address the Rev. Mr. Royall will show among other things a splinter of the five hundred pound Japanese bomb which destroyed his church at the outbreak of the current hostilities in the Far East.

Rev. Mr. Royall is one of the few occidentals to compose Chinese poetry and pen Chinese scrolls. During his last terms of service in north China, he has been in more than one battle and had numerous contacts with the Japanese, Chinese and Red Communist armies.

He is the author of "Missionary Missiles," "Enemies of the Middle Kingdom" and "Thinking Yellow." Included in Mr. Royall's repertoire is sacred whistling. He has whistled in six countries, more than 50 times over the radio and in over 200 towns and cities in America.

OTTON-GOODE NUPTIALS HELD

Hannah Lillian Goode, daughter of Mrs. Lily Shields of Newmarket, became the bride of Mr. Milton Thos. Otton, son of Mrs. C. C. Otton and the late Rev. Mr. Otton of Toronto in Humbercrest United church, Toronto, on Saturday.

Rev. T. W. Hazelwood performed the ceremony. The church was decorated with palms, ferns and gladioli. Miss Jeanette Stainton played the wedding music.

Mr. Longford Pegg, her brother-in-law, gave the bride in marriage. The bride wore a street-length ensemble of dusky rose, with powder blue accessories and carried roses and cornflowers. The bridesmaid, Miss Janet Steele, wore printed sheer with royal blue hat and carried roses and baby's breath. The best man was Mr. Bernard L. Porter.

Photographer's Mother Dies In Peterboro

One of the best known women in Peterboro, Mrs. Robert Bugg (Budd) died last Wednesday in hospital after an illness of two weeks. She was in her 77th year.

B. A. Budd, Newmarket, a son, and Mrs. Budd attended the funeral service in Trinity United church, Peterboro, on Friday. Interment was in Little Lake cemetery.

She is survived by three sons and a daughter, C. W. Barrett Winnipeg, Mrs. F. W. Gray, Peterboro, Wm. Bugg, Peterboro, and B. A. Budd of Newmarket.

Mrs. Bugg was predeceased by her second husband in 1929. Born in Glasgow, Scotland, a daughter of the late Charles Armstead and Mary Melrose, she came to Canada in 1909 following her marriage to Robert Bugg.

Resident in Peterboro ever since, she became one of the most active women in the affairs of that city. She was an honorary member of the Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary, organizer and director of the Peterboro Female Voice choir, a member of the Queen Alexandra circle of the Ancient Order of Foresters, the Caledonian club and the Red Cross Society. She was a prominent Liberal and participated in every election campaign during the past 20 years.

SAYS SIGNS IN HEAVENS SHOW "END OF THE AGE"

Last Sunday evening Rev. Harvey Linnen gave the address at the regular monthly meeting of the British Israel World Federation in the Strand theatre, taking for his subject "Signs in the heavens and the earth beneath."

The scripture lesson was the last chapter of the last book of the Old Testament, while he took St. Matt. 24 for a special chapter to illustrate his address.

The first part was "Signs in the earth" and he related many. Then with a chart he demonstrated signs in the heavens. The conjunction of the five planets, Mars, Saturn, Venus, Jupiter and Mercury occurred five years before the flood, in Noah's time, he said, under the sign Pisces, the fish or the water sign. The same conjunction of the five planets has occurred again recently, but this time under Aries, the sign for fire, and surely the world is in danger of being destroyed, this time by fire in place of water, Mr. Linnen believes.

He told many things, among them about the Star of Bethlehem, seen in the heavens last December, the same conjunction of planets that produced the star proclaiming Christ's first coming.

The British Israel beliefs set no dates, but many indications proclaim nearing the end of the age, not as people think, the end of the world, but the end of the age, he said.

"It was 2,000 years from the time of Abraham to the time of Christ, and today we are only 80 years from 2,000 more—whether we are to still go the full 80 years or whether God will shorten the time we must wait and see," Mr. Linnen said. "But he said unless those days be shortened no flesh shall live."

The board of trustees of Aurora United church are meeting tonight. There are one or two vacancies to be filled on the board.

Miss "Nan" Thompson, Former Auroran, Dies

The death occurred in Toronto on Sunday of Anna Tupper (Nan) Thompson, one time Aurora resident.

The funeral was on Tuesday to Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Miss Thompson was one of the daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Thompson of Aurora, her father being for many years principal of the public school here.

Many of Aurora's present day leading citizens attended school to the late Mr. Thompson. Miss Thompson and her brother, the late Percy Thompson, were prominent in young people's activities of yesteryear here.

Mother Dies In U.S., Lived Here 14 Years

Well-known in Newmarket, where she lived for 14 years, Mrs. Alexander Scott died in Rochester on Aug. 15.

Mrs. Scott lived with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Dunn, Simcoe St., until last Easter, when she returned to Rochester for a visit.

Catherine Farrell Scott was born in Pittsburgh, Ont., 75 years ago. Later she moved to Port Severn. After her marriage to Alexander Scott of Orillia she lived for some years in the United States.

She is survived by her only daughter, Mrs. Wm. Dunn of Newmarket, three sisters, Sister Farrell, of Hotel Dieu, Kingston, Mrs. J. B. Paxton and Mrs. Thos. Smith, of Rochester, and two brothers, Chas. Farrell of Marquette, Mich., and Martin Farrell of Baraga, Mich.

The funeral service was held in the Pro-Cathedral at Rochester on Aug. 19 with burial in Rochester.

BORN IN ENGLAND, WAS S.O.E. PAST PRESIDENT

The death occurred on Saturday after a lengthy illness of Joseph Barker in his 73rd year.

Mr. Barker was one of Aurora's best known citizens. He was born at Redcar, Yorkshire, England, coming to Canada at the age of nine years with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. George Barker. On the voyage to Canada the passengers were forced to take refuge in Ireland as the ship foundered.

His parents farmed for many years in the Aurora district and Mr. Barker was first employed in Daville's tannery, and later with J. Fleury and Son, where he was employed for 43 years. He was an expert machinist and a skilled craftsman in the manufacture of grinders. He was a member of Aurora United church and was one of the oldest members of Lodge Loyalty, Sons of England, being past president of the order and well known in district councils.

He is survived by his widow, the former May Elizabeth McConnell, and one daughter, Mrs. John Morning (Josephine), Aurora.

Funeral services were held at his late residence and Aurora cemetery, under S.O.E. rites. Rev. Roy Hicks of Aurora United church was in charge of the service.

JEAN KIRKWOOD IS AUTUMN BRIDE

A quiet wedding took place at Weston United church on Monday when Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Kirkwood, Aurora, became the bride of William Mitchell of Toronto, son of Mrs. Mitchell and the late William Mitchell. Rev. Kingsley Joblin of Weston performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a powder blue bunny wool dress, with black hat and black accessories, with twin fox furs. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses. Miss Christine Kirkwood was her sister's attendant, wearing a frock of wine crepe with black hat and black accessories and a corsage of Briarcliff roses. Wilson Mitchell of Toronto, brother of the groom, was best man.

Following a wedding trip to northern Ontario they will reside in Toronto.

MAYOR HAS SPEAKING DATE, TRAFFIC HALTS HIM

So great was the automobile traffic on Labor Day that Mayor Underhill had difficulty arriving at the exhibition luncheon. One jam delayed him for 35 minutes.

As his worship was billed to speak he had to appeal to authorities to get through and finally managed to arrive in the grounds by a circuitous route, a bit late, but ready for action. According to those present his worship made an excellent address which reflected greatly to the credit of the municipality.

Aurora Delegation Attends "Ex." Luncheon

On Monday a number of prominent citizens, in company with representatives from Newmarket and Sutton, were guests at luncheon of the Canadian National Exhibition.

Heading the Aurora delegation was his worship, Mayor Frank Underhill, accompanied by Mrs. Underhill, while others attending were Principal and Mrs. John G. McDonald of Aurora public school, Principal J. H. Knowles of Aurora high school and Mrs. Knowles, Dr. C. J. Devins, chairman of the public school board, and Mrs. Devins, Mrs. Thomas Dann, president of the Aurora Red Cross, and H. E. Aldrich, president of the Aurora board of trade, and Mrs. Aldrich.

Mayor Underhill introduced the Aurora guests.

Prominent Whitchurch Farmer Dies At 76

The death occurred at his residence last Thursday of Frederick Monkman, one of the best known residents of Whitchurch township. He was in his 77th year and had been in ill health for the past few months.

He was born at York Mills and after his marriage to Annie Coleman, who predeceased him about two years ago, he farmed at Richmond Hill. In 1900 the family moved to the second of Whitchurch where he had resided since.

He was a member of the United church at Mount Pisgah and in politics favored the Conservative party.

He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Walter Green (Anna) of Kelowna, B.C., Mrs. Hugh Richards (Hazel), of Aurora, Mrs. Frank Allen (Ada), of Whitchurch, and Rheba of Toronto, five sons, Robert and William at home, Frederick of Smooth Rock Falls, John of St. Catharines, and Joseph of the R.C.A.F., Mountain View training centre, one sister, Mrs. A. Danbrook, Toronto, and three brothers, Walter of King, John of Newmarket, and Joseph of Richmond Hill.

The funeral service was held on Saturday at his late residence and Aurora cemetery, with Rev. W. A. Westcott in charge of the service. Pallbearers were his four sons, Joseph, Robert, William and John and two sons-in-law, Hugh Richards and Frank Allen.

AURORA GIRL HAS CHURCH BRIDAL

The marriage took place on Saturday evening, Aug. 30, at Trinity Anglican church, Aurora, of Florence Evelyn Heard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Heard of Aurora, to William James Thompson of Toronto, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Thompson of Donegal, Ireland.

The church was beautifully decorated with gladioli, ferns and autumn flowers. Rev. R. K. Perdue performed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, had chosen a heaven blue wool dress with brown hat and brown accessories. She wore a corsage of pinks. Her bridesmaid, Mrs. Ross Quinn of Aurora, wore a gown of navy blue sheer with matching accessories. Her corsage was of pinks. John Colhoun of Thornhill was best man. Guests were present from Toronto, Barrie and Thornhill.

Following the ceremony a reception for the immediate family and friends was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. A. W. Heard receiving with the young couple. She wore a frock of wine crepe with matching hat.

The couple left for a wedding trip in northern Ontario and on their return will reside in Toronto. The bride has been prominent in the affairs of Trinity Anglican church and is past president of the Aurora A.Y.P.A.

WOULD LIKE MAGS TO HELP PASS WINTER

Red Rock, Ont.
Aug. 22, 1941.

The Era,
Newmarket and Aurora.
Dear Friends:

In the wilds of northern Ontario, among the rocks and hills, above the northern shore of Lake Superior, I sit in my hut, which is built to hold 30 men. We have been in this wilderness nearly nine months and are classed as active service. Our duties are not hard, but serious, guarding German prisoners of war.

I am the only Aurora boy in camp, and receive The Era every week, and it is certainly welcome, as it keeps me in contact with the old towns. Enclosed find a picture of myself in winter garb.

Last night we had a heavy hailstorm and frost, so it reminded me of last winter. Would be pleased to hear from anyone and more so would books for reading be welcome, as the nights will be long.

Yours truly,
Harry Holman.

Sunday-school teachers of Aurora United church met in the church parlors on Tuesday evening to outline the fall activities.

Calendar

On Sept. 20 the Aurora Women's Liberal association is holding a tea and draw at the home of Mrs. Jas. Whimster, the proceeds of which will go to the British Women's Soldier Fund, sponsored by the Ontario Women's Liberal Association. Mrs. Charles Webster, the president, and Mrs. L. C. Lee, the secretary, are convening the event.

Citizens are reminded that Saturday is the day of the victory aluminum drive. The Boy Scouts will call at the homes and everyone is requested to sort out their old aluminum now. In contributing the citizens do a double job, aid the government and aid the local Red Cross, which is sponsoring the campaign.

Local Man Wins Out For Town Electrician's Post

Harold A. "Bud" Eveleigh is Aurora's new town electrician, following his appointment on Tuesday evening by the town council. His salary was set at $1,430, or $27.50 per week, the same as his predecessor, George Walker, who retired on Aug. 1 to become postmaster.

Eighty-two applicants sought the post and were narrowed down to H. A. Eveleigh and Charles Copland, 32-year-old electrician of Harriston. Mr. Copland requested a salary of "approximately $1,800."

When the question came before the council on Tuesday, on motion of Deputy-Reeve Sparks and Councillor Ross Linton, Reeve C. A. Malloy asked what recommendations the electric light committee were making.

"There is no report or no recommendation," replied the committee chairman, Mr. Linton. "We had a committee meeting but could not reach a decision. Your chairman was in favor of a local man but the other members thought differently. They favored an outsider."

"You left the matter for council to decide?" asked Mr. Malloy.

"That is right," said Mr. Linton. "It seems unusual that the committee wouldn't at least bring in majority and minority reports," said Mr. Malloy.

Following the reading of the by-law the council went into committee of the whole with Reeve Malloy in the chair. Council here fell into a long and entangled discussion, with Mr. Eveleigh and Mr. Copland both being proposed and a vote, which proved to be unsatisfactory to all, taken. Finally the committee arose to report no progress, upon the advice of Town

TOWN WILL GIVE BAND BOYS MEDALS

The Aurora boys' band exhibition triumph is to be recognized by the town fathers. On motion of Reeve Malloy and Deputy-Reeve Sparks the council unanimously agreed on Tuesday to purchase silver medals for the boys, suitably inscribed. The cost to the municipality will be between $40 and $50.

"No organization has done more for the town," said Reeve Malloy. "They play free on many occasions and they are a fine bunch of boys."

"They are the best advertisement the town has," said Deputy-Reeve Sparks.

Expect 240 Students, Some Still Farming

No ceremonies marked the opening at the Aurora high school on Tuesday, the pupils attending their classes and obtaining new class rooms and a list of the textbooks required.

It is expected that there will be a total enrolment at the high school of about 240, several pupils being now absent on farm work. There were 95 registered in first form and 55 registered in second form.

"It is the largest first form we have ever had," Principal J. H. Knowles told the Era. "The pupils are divided about 50-50 from the town and country. Second form is also large but the others are about the same."

Water And Power Are Stumbling Blocks

"We have had several encouraging inquiries, but there is nothing definite in the industrial situation," Councillor G. A. C. Gunton told the council on Tuesday evening. "Last week I spent a day and a half on industrial matters."

Councillor Gunton reported three inquiries regarding industries. Electric power and a change in machine cycles was retarding one firm desiring to locate in the old Fleury plant. The water supply presented a problem for another proposed industry, which required a large quantity daily. A third firm was interested in the Grover shoe factory property and were contacting Mr. Grover.

Mayor Frank Underhill reported a further inquiry which had been made to him and which appeared promising. Councillor A. A. Cook reported other industrial interests as likely to visit Aurora this week.

SHEEP WIN PRIZES AT EXHIBITION

Charles Walton of Kettleby, well-known sheep breeder, obtained two seconds, a third, and a fifth in the Cheviot classes, and a fifth place among the Oxfords at the C.N.E. this year. He reports competition this year to be exceptionally strong.

CARS ROBBED, TANKFUL OF GAS SIPHONED

Early Sunday morning thieves broke into the garages of Norman Eade, Catharine Ave., and Bert Wright, Fleury St.

Mr. Eade's automobile, which was full of gasoline, was siphoned dry and a pair of knee rugs were stolen. From Mr. Wright's car a rug was taken and also a set of golf clubs belonging to Mr. Wright, who is the professional at the Aurora Golf and Country club.

The break-in at Mr. Wright's is believed to have occurred at about 3 a.m., while the hour of the entry at Mr. Eade's is not known. The losses were not discovered until the owners went to their garages on Sunday.

Benville Finishes Fourth In Provincials

While they did not win provincial honors, three members of the Aurora Cycling club acquitted themselves in fine style at the Ontario bicycle championships, held in Oshawa on Labor Day.

Bob Benville, riding in the open five-mile race, captured his heat from a strong field and finished fourth in the final, barely out of the money.

Lance-Pugh of Oshawa took the events, with Montreal and Toronto riders next. There were over 35 riders entered, which speaks well for Benville's ability. Harold Foster was narrowly nosed out in his heat.

Youthful Bill Heath, one of the club's newest riders, competing in the one-mile novice, won his heat in fast time and finished fifth in the final, failing to duplicate his previous time.

The Aurora club are sponsoring a 25-mile road race here on Thanksgiving Day which will feature the leading Canadian riders. John Offord, the club president, accompanied the boys.

MISS LULU ROBINSON DIES, RETIRED TEACHER

Miss Lulu E. Robinson of Aurora died on Sunday, Aug. 31. Miss Robinson was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson of Bond Head and was born at Newton Robinson. She had resided in Aurora since her retirement from public school teaching because of ill health. She was educated at Bradford high school and Toronto normal school and taught at Bradford, Orillia and Lansing among other schools.

She was a member of Aurora United church and the funeral service, which was held at the funeral parlors of P. M. Thompson on Wednesday, was conducted by Rev. Roy Hicks. Interment was at Newton Robinson cemetery.

She is survived by two sisters, Miss Genevieve Robinson of the staff of Aurora public school, and Miss Ella, both of Aurora.

STUDIES AT GALT

Bob Watson, son of Mrs. W. Watson, is now a student at the Galt Aircraft school.

SOLDIER IS BLOOD DONOR

Pte. Robert Hodgkinson of the R.C.O.C., Hamilton, was formerly a member of the Queen's York Rangers and has been taking a trade course at Hamilton. Recently he won top honors at the Aurora Horticultural Society, of which he is past president. He also is a blood donor to Canada's blood bank and has made no less than eight donations, four since he joined the army.

ALEX. STUART JOINS AIR FORCE

Alex. Stuart, youngest son of ex-Councillor John Stuart, reported for duty with the R.C.A.F. on Wednesday.

Alex. attended the local high school and then joined the staff of the Canadian Bank of Commerce here, later being transferred to Markham and then Stouffville, from which point he enlisted. His brother, Sgt. William Stuart, has been in England since early 1940, going over with the first division.

TAKES AIRCRAFT COURSE

Ted Sheridan of Whitchurch township, former Aurora basketball star, is taking the course at Galt Aircraft School sponsored by the provincial government.

IS AT CAMP BORDEN

Shown above is Trooper Gordon Long of the 1st Hussars Regiment, Camp Borden. Previous to joining the Hussars he was a member of the 2nd Irish Regiment (reserve). He is the son of Albert Long of Aurora.

Anonymous Writer Complains Of Dogs

The following anonymous letter was read to the town council on Tuesday evening.

"The mayor and council:

"Have we or have we not a dog by-law? If so, why is it not enforced? This comes from the vicinity of Wells and Harrison Sts. The dogs (and there are many) are sure a pest here. They are over our verandahs, gardens and lawns. There are collies and police dogs. All sizes and descriptions. Little black ones and little brown ones. Many without collars and licenses. I don't know to whom they belong but I must say we, and I know my neighbors feel the same as I do, have put up with the dog pest long enough.

"You as mayor have committees to attend to the affairs of the town (at least, we elected them to do so) and we have every right to expect them to do so. We pay our taxes and a certain amount of protection is due us.

"I could give you my name, but I think it is better not to. I know I speak for all my neighbors.

"T. J. M."

"Who are on the dog committee?" asked Mayor Frank Underhill. "I didn't know we had one."

"We haven't but we need one," said Councillor Dr. G. A. C. Gunton. "I have tried to have by-laws put in shape and enforced. The council apparently doesn't want to do this. The present dog by-law is useless. It is harder on the dog than the owner and he is the real guilty person. If the council wishes it attended to, the by-laws committee will soon deal with it but I want it enforced."

"Well, something must be done," said Mayor Underhill. "I am receiving complaints all the time. I can't say I blame people either. There are some people who absolutely refuse to keep their dog at home. I would like to see them get a warning first, then a good stiff fine."

"We have both dog lovers and flower lovers to please," said Councillor Cook. "It is pretty hard to work out."

"I see to date 218 dog licenses have been sold," said Reeve Malloy. "There seems to be a big canine population."

"And that's not all," said Clerk A. C. A. Willis.

The council finally agreed something should be done and the by-laws committee is now preparing new regulations for the town Fidos.

Boys' Band Takes 2nd Place At Ex., Bill Thompson Wins

Competing in their heaviest class to date, the Aurora boys' band scored an impressive triumph last Thursday at the Canadian National Exhibition, when they finished in second place in the intermediate boys' section (not over 21 years), a scant one mark behind the first place band, the Capital City boys' band of Ottawa.

The Ottawa boys trained by Lieut. W. B. Finlayson, secured 90 marks, while the local youngsters were given 89 marks. The Ottawa band won the same honors two years ago and is an organization with considerable funds behind it, so that the Aurora boys' performance is a real tribute to their ability and that of Bandmaster Robert Moore.

In third place was the Moose boys' band of London, which defeated Aurora in the junior class last year and in fourth place was the Essex-Leamington boys' band. Earlier this year these bands had finished ahead of Aurora at Waterloo, so that the second place win was sweet revenge for the local band and its many followers.

The third and fourth place bands are conducted by two brothers, A. C. Robinson being in charge of the Moose band and E. L. Robinson in charge of the Leamington band. Adjudicators were Dr. Charles O'Neill of Potsdam, New York, and S. G. Chamberlain of Chatham. Dr. O'Neill was warm in his praise of the local band. The boys played at 11.45 a.m. and the results were announced amid cheers about 1 p.m., following which the youthful bandsmen went on a spree on the midway.

Highlight of the band's performance was the win of Bill Thompson in the euphonium class. Bill gave a standout performance and his marks merited him a gold medal. John McGhee also did some fine work on the cornet.

"I am well pleased with the results. Every boy did his best, practised faithfully and tried hard," Bandmaster Robert Moore told The Era. "Aurora can be proud of the boys. It was one of our best performances to date, but I know we can do even better."

PUBLIC SCHOOL HOLDS OPENING CEREMONIES

Opening exercises at Aurora public school on Tuesday morning saw one of the largest crowd of visitors ever to be present.

Principal John G. McDonald welcomed the visitors and acted as chairman, with Rev. R. K. Perdue conducting the opening exercises. Others who spoke briefly were Dr. C. J. Devins, chairman of the board, Mayor Frank Underhill, Rev. J. W. Hirtle, Rev. Roy Hicks, Rev. A. R. Parks and Rev. J. Stewart.

There were no less than 375 pupils enrolled on opening day, with a beginners' class of 57, all new pupils at school.

Additional Aurora and district news will be found on Page 8.

NEIGHBORS RESCUE OAKRIDGES RESIDENT FROM BURNING ROOM "JUST IN TIME"

Almost at the same time that Aurora firemen were at the Buchanan residence on Metcalfe St. on Friday, a fire which did about $300 worth of damage was in progress on Bond St., Oakridges.

Seventy-five-year-old Albert McNeeley sat smoking his pipe in the living-room, while his wife visited neighbors, when suddenly he felt warm and smelled smoke. Arising from the chair he saw it afire, but before he could do anything the flames had spread to the curtains and from there to oil paintings and other furniture.

Dr. C. J. Devins of Aurora was paying a professional call at the home of Dick Baker, when he and Mr. Baker noticed smoke coming from the McNeeley residence and they quickly went to investigate, arriving about the same time as Mrs. John Topper and James Elford, other neighbors. They found Mr. McNeeley in the room just about overcome with smoke and in a dazed condition, with the fire eating up everything in the room. A few minutes later and it would have been too late, they thought.

"We arrived just in time," Dr. Devins told The Era. Mr. McNeeley was taken into the fresh air, where he was treated by Dr. Devins and the other trio quickly went to work on the fire, carrying pails and tubs of water. So successful were their efforts that the fire was soon under control and confined to the one room, although all the furniture, pictures and radio were destroyed.

Mr. McNeeley felt no ill effects later in the day, but he and his wife decided to advance their annual winter stay in Toronto by a week.

Ravenshoe

Next Sunday being the first Sunday in September, service at the United church will return to the afternoon hour of 2.15, standard time. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Sunday-school will be at 3.15 p.m.

Anniversary services are to be held on Sunday, Oct. 5, when Dr. Archer Wallace, editor of United church Sunday-school publications, will preach at both services. On Monday, Oct. 6, he will give an illustrated lecture.

Sunday morning's downpour of rain just at church time kept many away. Only a few were able to come out. Rev. Gordon Lapp spoke on the subject: "Where the spirit of the Lord is there is liberty enjoyed by all."

Many are attending the exhibition these days.

Would the members of the choir please remember choir practice each Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock to provide special music for the church anniversary?

Frank Ross had a bad accident recently and was taken to York county hospital with serious injuries. He had been living in Ravenshoe for some time, working in the store for Hugh Ross, his cousin, and was well known here.

The school bell was heard again this week.

Avoid Internal Sluggishness —It Saps Vitality!

Do you ever suffer from a dull, draggy feeling that prevents you from doing your best? Its cause is most often a sluggish system, due to lack of bulk in the diet. Here's a way to help prevent it.

Help Keep the System Normal This Pleasant, Natural Way

Constipation due to lack of bulk should yield to Post's Bran Flakes, eaten regularly. They provide enough natural bulk in the form of bran to keep the food wastes moving promptly.

Help to prevent sluggishness by eating Post's Bran Flakes daily. They have a crisp appetizing, nut-like flavour that really is different. If they do not easily relieve the trouble, see your doctor.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Bert Corbeau, the fiery leader of Atlantic City Seagulls, and former Toronto St. Pat's stick-wielder, is said to be interested in securing the services of Joint McComb and Frank Michaniuk for his boardwalk birds this winter. McComb, when we were talking to him a few days ago, was undecided as to what he would do this winter. Michaniuk, who had a good season with Sutton last year, is in Toronto. Corbeau would make no mistake in securing either boy. They would be right at home there, with Blondie Prokon of Owen Sound Greys and Stew. Cheetham of Brantford Lions, both being with the Gulls, as well as several Barrie boys, if we remember rightly. The junior B group of two years ago certainly had some fine players on all the teams. Eldon "Fat" James, in case you've wondered what has happened to him, has not been dropped from the line-up of the fast travelling Mimico Mountaineers, who are favored by some to take the Mann Cup this year. Some weeks ago Fat suffered a broken bone in his foot while at practice, which will keep him on the sidelines for three weeks. James, who made a real hit with Brampton last year, has kept up his good work at Mimico and is one of their most dangerous stars on the attack. Needless to say, James is just as popular in the hub of lacrosse as he was with the fans here in junior championship days.

Sutton, one of the hockey strongholds of North York, has lost two members of last year's Greenshirts to the armed forces. Leon "Smitty" Smith, the ace netminder, joined the Ordnance Corps some months ago and wil be mighty hard to replace. If we are correct, Smith has tended goal ever since Sutton had an intermediate O.H.A. team in recent years and has done a consistently good job. Some thought last season his worst, particularly in the Fergus series, which spelled elimination. He always gave all he had and a few years ago, when Lake Simcoe boys were playing softball in the York-Simcoe league, he played shortstop. He also umpired many play-off series, teaming up with the McLeod brothers and doing a fine job. Bud Gilbey, giant defenceman, who once had a try with Aurora Juniors, has followed his teammate, Smith, to the same unit, but they are separated now, Bud being shifted from Borden to Oshawa for a special course. There won't be many huskier soldiers than Gilbey. Les Canadiens of Montreal were said to be interested in Bud's future playing activities.

Dusty Pivnick, Dunne, Crandall and other former Sutton juniors are also seeing active service and we have probably missed one or two lads in a rough summary.

In May we attended the district public school track meet at Richmond Hill and we were more than impressed with the performances of a Concord youngster, Harry Redman. Young Redman took five firsts. Last week he competed in the 100 yds. under 14 at the C.N.E. and finished third in a strong field. The other lads all came from urban centres and had been well trained, with the advantage of equipment, so Harry did very well, considering everything. Tag the kid for the future, as you'll probably see him in interscholastic circles with Richmond Hill.

Maurice Browning of Wilcox Lake is another youngster who has been giving a top bit of performing. Young Browning entered the junior public links golf tournament in Toronto a couple of weeks ago and took top honors against some pretty good competitors.

He has been playing around golf courses since he was a toddler. He hits a long ball and comes honestly by power drives, for his father, Earl Browning, the former Aurora and Richmond Hill hardballer, used to take a hefty cut at the pill when he was in his prime. His uncle, Ted Chatterley, is one of the best at the local golf course. Speaking of golf, we note that a grand sportsman, if there ever was one, General Elmsley, has donated a trophy for competition by the members of the Aurora Golf and Country club, which will be competed for next Sunday on the Aurora course. It is a field day trophy, decided on driving, putting, pitching. In other words, decided by having the best all-round repertoire of strokes.

The G.G.H.G. or, as they are sometimes called, the "mudguards," annexed the armed forces softball title by defeating the R.C.A.F. in a best of three series. The airmen came from the Toronto manning pool and in the finals, to be fair, didn't have a full team.

Gordon Dawson, who hails from Cookstown and was battery mate for Harry Couse, the Barrie hurler, when he played on his native heath, held down an outfield position but was absent for the final game. Bud Bulmer, former Newmarket junior hockey player and softball outfielder, was another of the birdmen who played right up to the finals. Last year we picked him on our second York-Simcoe team although if he had played all season the big fellow wouldn't have taken a back seat to anyone.

You will recall that the 1st Hussars regiment were narrowly eliminated by the Governor-General's team in the tournament held to pick a Borden entry. Now the Hussars are hoping for revenge, as the Camp Borden championship series has got down to the quarter finals, with the R.C.D.'s being another entry. The Hussars bowed out in the armored division field day to the Westminsters but they have settled that score already by taking them 9-7 in the one game loss and out series. Previous to that they walloped the 14th Field Ambulance and then took the Signals Corps 4-1.

Wilf. White, the former Aurora centrefielder, is holding down the initial sack and has done some real hitting. He had a perfect average against the R.C.C.S., getting a homer, double and two triples in four tries, to drive in all the Hussars' runs. Against the Westminsters he had three for four, socking out a homer, a brace of triples and an outfield fly. He drove in seven runs, all told.

Ray White, Wilf's younger brother and another Aurora boy, is holding down the left-field berth for the Hussies. Bill Ferris from Detroit is the new mound star for the unit, giving Lieut. Harrison, who had previously borne the pitching burden, some needed rest. Sgt. Henry Chandler from London handles the catching duties to perfection.

Richmond Hill softballers, league finalists, ended the season $40 or more in the red, with Manager Charlie Ryan carrying the whiteman's burden. Leon, Simmons and Tommy Rank haven't announced their deficit yet but we know they are into red ink too. Barrie Colleginns, atho' they won the title, won't have a plugged nickel to treat the boys.

All of which leaves York-Simcoe softball in a pretty kettle of fish and presents a nice problem for next year. If we remember rightly there was some talk of bonusing the clubs from the surplus in the league treasury, which would only be a drop in the bucket. We haven't been able to learn if this has been done, or the post-season series with the Camp Borden Fliers for the title, but not the Patterson cup, arranged. Last year altho' Richmond Hill really won the title, no award was made of the trophy. There can be no doubt about it now and we hope Ross Smith has the cup nestling in the windows of the drugstore at the Allandale turn or in the Examiner windows. If it isn't there that's where it should be right now.

Archery got some nice publicity at the Ex. and we saw one or two feats that we thought only Robin Hood or William Tell could put over. However, we really started out to tell you about that past-master of the longbow, Dan Cupid. Once again a fine crop of district sports figures middle-aisled it to enter the ranks of the benedicts—Bill Boaks, the Aurora topflight golfer — Wallace Jennings, the King-Schomberg softballer and former high school athlete—Bill Mugford, ex-Aurora softballer—Bill Kitto, ex-Newmarket Redman, rooter and score-keeper de luxe—"Bub" Preston, the Pine Orchard flash and Lake Simcoe softball first-teamer—Art Bunn, the former Aurora cyclist, and others we've missed.

Every month nearly it's the same story. We give you the news, so if you don't see the fellows in circulation as per usual you'll know the answer.

Harold Pringle, one of the top-ranking Ontario cyclists and a member of the Victor A.C., Oshawa, was absent from the provincial races on Labor Day, because he is now on active service with the R.C.A.F. Harold is no stranger to Aurora, where he thrilled the crowd with his riding on several occasions.

Schomberg softballers are up to their old tricks again as they battle their way towards a provincial rural title. Inactive all season, Bob Moodie got the boys a few exhibition tilts and now they have come through the first round of the play-offs, eliminating a Grey county entry. They await the next round, with Ellison again displaying his skill on the mound. Good luck 'bergers.

TOT FALLS INTO WELL, MOTHER RESCUES HIM

Mr. Wm. Thompson of Aurora was in town on Sunday calling on old friends.

Mrs. Drury and little daughter were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hollingshead on Sunday.

Miss Velma Winter and her niece, Margaret Winter, visited Mrs. H. Wood on Sunday.

Miss Joyce Wauchope is relieving Miss Florence Sutton at the telephone office. Miss Sutton is having two weeks' vacation.

What might have proved a tragic accident occurred on Saturday afternoon when the little son of Mr. and Mrs. B. McGuire fell into a well which had about three feet of water in it. However, he was saved by the quick action of his mother, who jumped in and rescued him. The doctor was called immediately and worked with him for a long time before he regained consciousness. At the time of writing he is well again.

Mrs. Wm. Edgar and daughter, Teresa, spent the weekend and holiday in Toronto with friends.

Miss Aileen Ferguson has returned home after spending a week in Barrie with Mrs. E. Jordan.

Mrs. T. Packer of Sudbury visited Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McGowan and friends here over the weekend.

Mrs. Cecil Wood and daughters and Miss Muriel Wood spent the holiday at the exhibition.

Mrs. Kenneth Leonard has returned home from the hospital and is improving rapidly.

Mrs. Fizzell of Woodbridge spent Sunday with her son, Mr. H. Fizzell, here.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis of Toronto visited Mrs. E. Leithwood on Sunday.

EVERSLEY

FAMILY REUNION HELD ON 77TH BIRTHDAY

Rev. and Mrs. Atkinson are planning to stay over in King City for the month of September. Mrs. Atkinson was glad to meet her friends again in Eversley church on Sunday morning.

Miss Lois Tawse, younger daughter of Mr. Mack Tawse, of Toronto, spent two weeks with her aunt, Mrs. Jennie Shropshire, at Mill Pond Farm.

Mr. Harvey Tod and Miss Hilda Smith spent the weekend and holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Allan Gellatly at Ferndale Farm.

Mrs. Donald Fraser of north Toronto visited Miss Alice Ferguson on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Goodwin also spent part of Friday at Scots Wha Hae.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Philip Wade was held at her late home in Maple and at King City cemetery on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Wade was the sister-in-law of Mr. John Wade and she and her husband farmed the A. B. Wells farm here in the long ago.

The Eversley Young People's ice cream social, held at the church on Tuesday evening, was a success. The attendance was not large, but the social element was fine and the program was choice and well presented. The social was under the direction of the Misses Ethel Ferguson and Verna Bovair, and Miss Edith Bovair presided over the entertainment part.

Those who assisted so splendidly with the program were the junior pianists, Joyce and George Hately, and Catherine and Violet McKie. Two splendid recitations were given by the Eversley elocutionists, Marie Ball and Betty Ball, who gave Edgar Guest's poem on "V for Victory." Miss Edith Bovair contributed a good reading. Miss Jessie Gellatly and Mrs. Fred Curtis sang two duets, as did Selina and June Mosley, with Ethel Ferguson at the piano. This was Mrs. Gellatly's birthday and it was nice to have had the party on that occasion.

On Sunday Mrs. Gellatly, Sr., of King City, held a family reunion to celebrate her 77th birthday. Around the hospitable board at the evening dinner sat Mrs. Gellatly, the honored hostess, Mr. Farren Cairns, Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Gellatly of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gellatly, David and Paul, of Willowdale, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Gellatly of Ferndale Farm, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gellatly of King City, Miss A. A. Ferguson, Mrs. Clara Smith and Miss Jessie Gellatly.

It was a delightful family party, bringing together the family, with the exception of Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Gellatly of Fort William.

Miss Elizabeth Tinline of King and Miss Bessie Gellatly of Eversley, both of whom are suffering from fractured hips, are progressing favorably.

KING CITY

FOLLIOTT-WELLESLEY NUPTIALS CELEBRATED

On Saturday afternoon, Aug. 30, at the home of the bride, amid a beautiful setting of gladioli, Miss Mary Wellesley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wellesley, became the bride of Mr. Gilbert Folliott, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Folliott.

Rev. W. H. Bartlett of Toronto, uncle of the bride, officiated.

The bride was gowned in an afternoon frock of delph blue faille with matching turban and navy accessories. She wore a corsage of American Beauty roses and baby's breath. The bride's sister, Mrs. Floyd Burgess, Toronto, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of wood rose crepe with flowers in her hair and a corsage of bouvardia and white accessories. Mr. Eldon Folliott, brother of the groom, was best man.

During the signing of the register Miss Mildred Folliott, sister of the groom, sang "I Love You Truly."

Following the ceremony a reception was held. Mrs. Wellesley received, gowned in soldier blue crepe and wearing a corsage of pink roses, and Mrs. Folliott assisted, wearing Alice blue crepe and pink roses.

The couple left on a motor trip to Montreal by way of Ottawa. They will reside in Montreal.

Mrs. Bartlett, aunt of the bride, poured tea, assisted by Mrs. Douglas Well, Mrs. Gates, and the Misses Blanche Wellesley and Mildred Folliott. The bride's grandparents, who will celebrate their 59th anniversary in October, were guests.

King public school had ten young beginner pupils added to their roll this week.

Pte. Alfred Barker of the R.C.A.F., Camp Borden, was home for the weekend.

Sgt. Frank Egan was in town over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Folliott and their youngest daughter have motored to Montreal.

NORTH GWILLIMBURY

ENGINEER WILL MAKE WATER INVESTIGATION

North Gwillimbury township council met at Belhaven on Tuesday. All the members were present.

Troubles developing in two different lakeshore areas over flooding and drainage engaged a good deal of the council's attention. As it appeared that the council was being requested to take care of a good deal more water than was properly a municipal responsibility, it was decided that a competent engineer should be engaged to make a survey and give the council a report as to proper water courses and where and how these had been interfered with.

A decision could then be made as to what the township would have to do to take care of their share of responsibility and what would have to be taken care of by property owners.

A list of deputy game wardens and officers, submitted by North Gwillimbury Game Association, was approved.

The council and township officers concurred in drafting a letter to be forwarded to Neil Shortreed, manager of the Bank of Commerce, who has been transferred to Pickering. The letter conveyed the regrets of the council and township officers that the community was losing such good citizens as Mr. and Mrs. Shortreed and expressed appreciation of the capable services Mr. Shortreed had rendered the township in financial matters. The council wished them all success and prosperity in the new field.

The following accounts were approved and ordered paid: County of York, hospitalization, $124.25; County of York, $2.50; Miller Sedore, $29.70; Alvin Rye, $6; Jas. Stevenson, $6; J. H. Harper, $3; John Leckie Ltd., $10.26; Carl Morton, $75; Dr. F. G. Pim, $56.50; T. R. Sheppard, $42.

Welfare accounts: C. Pringle, $14.08; E. P. Crittenden, $29.83; Sam Hurwich, $3; Archie Smith, $8.65; Lyons' Meat Market, $4.32; Rowe's Grocery, $7.04; W. A. Burkholder, $2.30; Cook's Bakery, $2.79; township wood account, $21; A. Walinck, $8.80; D. J. Davidson, $43.74; R. J. Stork, $15.99; Jas. Stevenson, $21.84; A. King, $10, $5.

FARMER INJURED IN HAYING ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. F. Flake and Miss Metz of Buffalo spent Sunday at Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Galbraith's.

Miss Grace Lockie and a friend, of Toronto, spent the weekend at her home here.

Miss Helen Rynard of Toronto was at her home for the holiday.

LANDLUBBER

Rastus, on his first ocean trip, was desirous of getting off the boat.

"Say, Rastus," said a friend, it's easy to see you're a landlubber, all right."

"You're right, boy," murmured Rastus. "And I'se just finding out how much I really lubs it."

Red Cross Asks Help With Xmas Knitting

Mrs. W. R. Fisher, work convenor, of the North Gwillimbury Red Cross, makes an urgent appeal to all knitters for a special effort to be made at once for Christmas for overseas boxes. Articles needed are socks, sweaters, helmets and either mitts or gloves.

W. Davison and P. Mahoney were appointed to arrange for cigarettes for Christmas overseas boxes.

Anyone desirous of contributing kindly contact either gentleman. Boxes for the same will be placed at various business places throughout the township.

The aluminum victory collection campaign is to take place Sept. 5 and 6. What is required is broken or old waste pieces. Children are asked to take this scrap to the school, from where the collection will be arranged by G. White.

BELHAVEN

The heavy rain on Sunday kept a good many home from church.

Deepest sympathy goes out to Mrs. Harold Stonehouse in the loss of her father, Mr. Albert Dike, of Mount Albert.

John Gordon is moving to Newmarket, where he has taken the job of driving a milk truck.

The Belhaven Women's Institute will meet in the hall on Sept. 9 at 2.30 p.m. There will be music by the Rye sisters and by the Cryderman girls. There will be a contest and singing. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Bernard Huntley. Everybody is welcome. Mrs. Erwin Winch, Mrs. Lorne Holborn and Mrs. Elja Willoughby will be hostesses.

Mr. Wm. Willoughby was taken to Toronto General hospital recently, where he underwent an operation. At the time of writing he is still very weak but friends hope for a speedy recovery.

A bus hit a car at the baseline corner on Monday night but no one was hurt.

Miss Sellers of Zephyr is visiting her sister, Mrs. Lockie.

A number around here have been ill with summer flu.

The heavy rains have made it bad for the farmers getting their wheat ground ready.

MOUNT PLEASANT

RAIN TOPPLES STRAW STACK, 5 HOGS KILLED

School bells are again ringing and children seem glad to get back to school.

The heavy rain of Saturday kept some away from the picnic at Jackson's Point and not so many were at church owing to the rain on Sunday morning.

Harvest home services will be held on Sunday, Sept. 14, at the usual hour, 11.15 a.m.

Robt. Davidson had the misfortune to lose five hogs on Sunday owing to the heavy rain causing the top of the straw stack to slide off, smothering the hogs.

Master Rodger Davidson, who has been holidaying with his grandparents, returned home on Labor Day.

Corporal G. Davidson of the Governor General's Horse Guards, and son, Bobby, spent Labor day at Mr. Robt. Davidson's.

Some from here attended the Red Cross quiltings that were held in Belhaven hall on Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Davidson had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Moulds.

Quite a number from here are attending the exhibition.

KESWICK

CANVASS FOR CHURCH MEETS WITH SUCCESS

Though the weather was inclement there was a wonderful crowd at the United church on Sunday. At the morning service the guest soloists were Mrs. Bradbury and Miss Mabel Thompson of Orchard Beach, singers at St. Olave's church, Toronto. They sang a beautiful duet, Breathe on me, Breath of God," and Miss Thompson, contralto, sang the beautiful solo, "Jerusalem."

At the evening service the choir leader, Miss Eva Gilroy, sang as a solo Elliott's great national hymn, "God save the people."

The United church Women's Association and Woman's Missionary Society monthly supper, which was postponed from its regular date, will be held on Thursday, Sept. 11, at 3 p.m., D.S.T., in the Sunday-school room of the church. This will begin the autumn activities.

Next Sunday's services at Keswick United church will be held at the usual hours, 11 a.m. and 8 p.m., D.S.T. Rev. Gordon Lapp will be in charge. On the following Sunday the services will be changed to the winter schedule.

Next Sunday Rev. Gordon Lapp will preach in the morning on "The Land of Beginning Again," and in the evening his sermon will be "God Save the King!" This evening sermon will be a sequel to that of last Sunday, "God Save the King! God Save the People!"

A very successful drive for funds for renovating the United church was conducted last week. Sixty percent of the canvassers had reported on Sunday and had collected $410. Extensive improvements to the church have already been made and there are a few more still to be made.

Most of the summer people are leaving their cottages this week.

Mr. J. C. Purdy of Hamilton, formerly of Keswick, has been seriously ill, but is able to be up and around again. He has been spending the summer at the lake and attended the United church on Sunday morning.

Many friends warmly welcomed Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Fockler of Maple to the morning service at the United church on Sunday. They have been staying at their cottage and renewing friendships in Keswick and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Boothby and small daughter, of Newmarket, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Winch on the holiday.

● It is doubtful if in any other line of business the man at the retail end renders as technically expert and helpful service to his customers at so low a cost as does the local Implement Dealer. This, while it has always been so, has greater significance in these days of more highly mechanized farming, calling as it does for training and experience in the servicing of modern machines.

His experience with machines enables him to give time and money-saving service in the speedy furnishing of the correct part when repairs and replacements are required—for delays in seeding, haying and harvesting may result in substantial loss to a farmer. In those critical seasons his warehouse is open practically at all times, and he is untiring in playing his part to prevent farmers suffering from delays.

His accumulated knowledge of methods being used and of the experiences of the many farmers he calls on and associates with makes his advice helpful and valuable.

Since the early pioneering days, through all the vicissitudes of farming, the Implement Dealer has shared the hardships as well as the fortunes of farmers rendering a worth-while service and establishing a well-founded place for himself in our economic set-up.

"READER INTEREST" DETERMINES THE VALUE OF ADVERTISING SPACE

Advertising experts all agree "reader interest" in a publication is the most important factor in determining the value of advertising space.

When subscribers get The Era they read it. They have paid for the service The Era renders, and for having it delivered, addressed personally to them. It is not thrown on the doorstep in the hope that it will be noticed as are handbills and posters; but is directed to the personal attention of every householder who has paid for receiving it. This payment is the guarantee of its being read.

THE NEWMARKET ERA HAS THAT LOCAL READER INTEREST

Of that there can be no argument. The Era carries a complete news coverage of the town and district, and is eagerly looked for every week by 5,000 readers.

THE NEWMARKET ERA COVERS YOUR TRADING AREA THOROUGHLY

There's nothing indefinite about The Era circulation. The Era is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations. This is the advertiser's absolute guarantee of where the paper goes.

MOUNT ALBERT

A. E. DIKE DIES AT 90, WAS POPULAR FIGURE

The Mount Albert community last week mourned the loss of Albert Edward Dike, who died on Wednesday, Aug. 27, in his 81st year, at his home at Mount Albert. He suffered an illness of two weeks with a heart condition.

Mr. Dike was born at Siloam, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Dike. On March 13, 1894, he married Jane Ada Fletcher. Mrs. Dike died in 1935.

Mr. Dike, who was very fond of children, was a popular and familiar figure around the town. Although on in years, he was clever and bright and will be greatly missed. He had celebrated his 80th birthday on Aug. 24, just three days before his death.

Mr. Dike was a miller by occupation and for many years had a flour and chopping mill in Mount Albert. In his early days he was a thresher and a farmer. At one time he was in charge of the local electric light plant for Mount Albert. Mr. Dike was a shareholder in the Mount Albert telephone company. He belonged to the United church, where he was as faithful a member as his health would permit.

Mr. Dike is survived by one son, L.A.C. A. F. Dike, Victoria, B.C., and four daughters, Mrs. H. Stonehouse (Nellie), Sutton West, Mrs. J. Case (Mary), Mrs. A. Harrison (Vera), and Mrs. D. Dike (Edna), all of Mount Albert. There are two grandsons, Morley E. Case of the R.C.A.F., and George Albert Harrison, and a great-grandson. He is survived also by a brother, Wilfrid Dike of Mount Albert.

The funeral service was held at his home on Sunday, Aug. 31, with Rev. R. V. Wilson in charge. Pallbearers were H. Leadbetter, J. Rennie, C. Hartin, L. Pearson, W. Robertson and E. Haigh. Interment was made in Mount Albert cemetery.

The September meeting of the Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Tilley on Thursday, Sept. 11. Hostesses will be Mrs. D. Stokes and Mrs. R. V. Wilson. A paper will be given on "Education for citizenship." There will be current events on temperance and the roll-call will be a collection for a Queen Mary cot. All ladies are welcome to these meetings.

Capt. W. L. Carruthers, now stationed at Camp Borden, was home over the weekend.

Miss Ann Carruthers has returned home after several weeks visit in Hamilton.

Miss Marian Gibney of Holt is the new teacher for the junior room in the public school, taking Miss Dike's place.

Misses Adeitha and Alma Graham have taken rooms in Mrs. Davidson's house.

Mrs. Kenneth Ross and Betty, Helen Oliver, Mrs. W. Slorach and Mrs. Macpherson spent Friday on a motor trip to Guelph.

Miss Hyde, R.N., and Miss Horner, R.N., of Grace hospital, Ottawa, are spending a week with Mrs. Macpherson.

Mrs. George Brown was taken to York county hospital last week for an appendix operation.

Mr. Roy Graham is in Toronto General hospital for observation and treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and Paul of Toronto were at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Dike over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. John Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warren and Mr. Robt. Harrison attended the Hockley-Heinmuller wedding at Chesley on Saturday, returning home on Sunday afternoon.

On Sept. 26 the Bible society will give a public lecture with motion pictures in the United church.

L.A.C. Alvin Dike, stationed at Victoria, spent a few days at his home in town recently, having been called home owing to the death of his father, Mr. Albert Dike.

Charles Morton, with the R.C.A.F. at Halifax, has been home with his wife and family for two weeks leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stokes have been spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Stokes.

Miss Marion Stewart is attending Newmarket high school.

Mrs. W. Rosamond of Newmarket and Mrs. Fawcett of Dresden were calling on old friends on Monday.

Mr. Thos. Bosworth of Newmarket was in town on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Woodcock and Ivan of Toronto spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. J. Case.

Mr. and Mrs. Young of Weston and Mrs. Cook and Miss Cook of Woodbridge were calling in town on Saturday.

Mrs. R. Davis spent several days last week with her daughter, Mrs. K. Jarvis, at Barrie.

Mrs. Kurtz and children have returned home after spending the summer at North Bay.

Donald Stewart of the R.C.A.F. at Belleville was home over the weekend.

Bruce Davidson of Toronto has been spending his holidays in town.

Mrs. M. Ough and Mabel and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown of Toronto were calling in town on Thursday.

School opened on Tuesday.

The Young Men's Bible class of the United church, Mount Albert, are sponsoring a concert in aid of the Red Cross British Bomb Victims' Fund in the Mount Albert community hall on Oct. 1. At the close of the concert an auction sale will be held of any articles that may be donated. Anyone having articles to donate for the sale please call Mel. Oldham, 2203, or any member of the class.

MAPLE HILL

Bible School Pupils Will Help In Service

On Sunday evening, Sept. 7, the children of the vacation Bible school will take part in the service at the Maple Hill Baptist church. The boys and girls will recite memory work and sing the songs which they learned during the summer.

Throughout July and August, each Wednesday morning, between 40 and 50 boys and girls gathered at the church. The Bible was the text book and around it was fashioned the teaching of the vacation school. A special demonstrating board was used to illustrate the Bible stories and the object talks. The children memorized scripture and learned hymns and choruses. There was also coloring with crayons, cut-outs and sewing for the girls. Everything, even the sewing, concentrated upon the Bible. But everything was done in interesting ways and the children enjoyed themselves.

Everyone is welcome to the service this Sunday evening, when the children will take part.

There were many people away for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. David Love and Rita visited at the home of Mrs. Love's sister, Mrs. A. E. Traviss, Walton, and N. McCulloch, Harriston.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knights and baby, Gwen, spent the weekend at the home of Mr. Wight near Orillia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Plummer and Doreen visited at Kitchener, Galt and London and the Indian reserve near London.

Rev. John Hunter and his family, from Essex, have been in the neighborhood for the past week and are returning to their home on Friday morning. Ever since Mr. Hunter preached during special services at Maple Hill last April, he has had many good friends here. His visits are enjoyed by everyone.

Sympathy is extended to Wm. Abbs in the loss of his barn and crop, which were burned when struck by lightning. This is the third barn Mr. Abbs has had burned, two of them struck by lightning.

The Dorcas Society will meet Sept. 10 at the home of Mrs. Frank Knights. All ladies are cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knights and Mary Carol spent the weekend in northern Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Sawdon of Newmarket visited at the home of Mr. W. Plummer last Thursday.

HOLLAND LANDING

Miss Grace Evans Has Pretty Church Bridal

A pretty wedding was solemnized in the United church on Saturday, when Miss Grace Evans became the bride of Mr. Andrew Quarry of Guelph.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Marshall Evans, was attired in a gown of pale pink net over taffeta, with a finger-tip veil and matching accessories and carried a bouquet of roses.

While the bridal couple and Miss Bessie Evans and Mr. Norman Hazelwood were signing the register, Miss Jean Brown of Markham sang, "Oh Promise Me." Mrs. Ted Dutton accompanied her at the piano and also played the wedding march.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Some of those attending from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hazelwood, Miss Connie Limebeer, Miss Mary Green, of Guelph, Aircraftman Bert Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Sanderson, Mrs. E. J. Chapman, Mr. E. Dutton, of Toronto, Miss Audrey Lewis and Miss Jean Brown, of Markham, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Cocklin and family, of Creemore, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cooper and family, of Washago.

The bride wore blue with navy accessories as her going away costume and after their return from a motor trip in Muskoka the happy couple will reside in Guelph.

The United church Sunday-school picnic was held in the park here last Tuesday with a large number of the scholars attending and a lovely time was enjoyed by all.

A shower was held at the home of Mrs. A. Reilly on Friday evening for Miss Grace Evans. A large number of her friends attended and the bride-to-be received many beautiful and useful gifts.

Miss Sadie Young of Lakefield spent last week with Mrs. Geo. Tate.

Mr. J. Chapman, Miss N. Chapman and Mrs. E. J. Chapman spent Sunday at Mr. Chapman's summer cottage here.

Mr. Wm. Sadler of Toronto spent Sunday with his grandmother, Mrs. J. Sadler.

Mr. Homer Henbest and Miss Myrtle Maxwell of Inglewood spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. Evans.

Mrs. B. Pearce left on Saturday to spend a vacation with her husband in Fort William.

Mrs. M. L. Leslie of Toronto visited her brother, Mr. F. J. Sheppard, for a week. Mr. Sheppard returned with his sister for a vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Chadwick and family of Toronto spent the weekend at their summer home here.

Mrs. J. Thompson returned yesterday from an extended visit with her husband in Joliette, P.Q.

Sharon

The ladies of Holland Landing Christ church W.A. held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Leonard Selby, Sharon, on Wednesday of last week and made a quilt, with the neighbors giving a willing hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Selby of Toronto were vacationing at the home of Mr. Selby's mother, Mrs. W. B. Selby, for the last two weeks. They left for home on Monday, taking Mrs. W. B. Selby with them for a visit.

Miss Ruth Wilmot returned on Monday from two weeks' holidays at Kingston with relatives.

Queensville

Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Smart of Portsmouth, Ont., were visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Wilmot last Thursday. Mrs. Smart is a sister of Mr. Wilmot.

ST. PAUL'S RESUMES CHURCH ACTIVITIES

The clergy of the deanery of West York are holding their yearly conference in St. Paul's church, Newmarket, next Monday, commencing with a communion service at 10.30 a.m.

Sunday-school will be held from next Sunday on at 2.30 in the afternoon.

The Woman's Auxiliary will hold their monthly meeting a week from today, and it being the first meeting of the season, there will be a corporate communion in the church at 2.30 p.m., followed by the regular meeting.

The following Thursday will open the Dorcas meetings, and the completed rugs from last year's work will be on display and offered for sale. Anyone wanting a rug may contact a W.A. member.

UNPREDICTABLE

"I turned the way I signalled," said the lady indignantly, after the crash.

"I know it," retorted the man. "That's what fooled me."

INFORMATION, PLEASE

By GOLDEN GLOW

Quite often I get letters asking me to write about a certain subject, and I am always glad to do so—but when it is somebody that has a pet aversion, or a grievance, or a grouch, or wants to start a controversy, then I am not so willing to oblige! But there was a request that recalls an article I wrote once before—and that is the quantity of broken glass around our streets, and which creates quite a menace both to motor cars and to pedestrians and the writer asks "Can't you do something about it, Golden Glow?" Well—what can we do? If each one of us made our own frontage our especial care, here on the side streets, is the only thing I can see for it. The remedy is up to each and all of us.

If we are really conscious of the danger, and the menace of broken glass, we should not be afraid to bend our backs and gather it up and have the garbage man take it away to the dump or to a place where it can do no harm. You see the street-cleaners come round the side streets so seldom—and, when they do, it is the pavement, not the boulevard, that they sweep. There were two or three particular places the writer of this certain letter called to my attention, one was Botsford St., outside the cedar hedge on the corner of Church and Botsford, a vacant lot. The second was along the side of Hillsdale Dairy a little way. The third was by the Free Methodist church—and the letter went on "and I could name half a dozen more places—but those three will do to illustrate my meaning. In each case nobody in particular is responsible, as nobody is living there, and the glass is being broken into fragments and becoming more of a menace every day." I quite agree with the letter but what can be done? If anyone can suggest a remedy, then please do so. Little children could so easily get a piece into their flesh, apart from the danger to motor-cars. It is evidently broken milk bottles, so when the dairy insists on stricter payment for broken milk bottles then folks will be more careful.

Another letter protests about people who are everlastingly begging flowers—I need not say anything on that subject for I saw a splendid letter about it a few weeks ago in this paper and it left nothing more to be said! It covered the whole subject better than I could do. All the same it reminds me of the time a girl came to me and asked for flowers for a certain event—I had plenty, and was glad to give them to her, but I had rather a shock as I laid a huge bunch in her arms and said, "I expect you have pretty well and remarked in a highly indignant tone, "We didn't pick OUR flowers!" No, they didn't, but it was quite all right to have me strip my garden!

Another was protesting about small folks with cap guns and pea-shooters. Well! I will admit they can be provoking. There is a honeysuckle bush in our garden right beside the street, and, as you know, it is covered with dainty red berries at this time of the year. Well, it is bad enough to have the tree stripped of its pretty ornaments every year, but when the small boys deluge all our verandahs with the berries shot through a pea-shooter, you begin to feel that it's almost insult to injury. However, I decided it would only last a short time, so let it go, for children can't resist such things!

I was amused the other day—one neighbor had visitors with several children and they were enjoying themselves with the children round here. One little chap has a soldier outfit, complete, so naturally they marched with him as leader. They shouldered their guns and marched like veterans, and even had manoeuvres where pea-shooters were "used against the enemy." Then all of a sudden, as the "squad" was marching, one small chap put out his hand with a "Heil Hitler!" salute. Accordingly, all the rest of the little bunch shouted "Heil Hitler" too, with outstretched arm. That didn't suit the small leader, who turned round and severely reprimanded them, and said "No, it isn't 'Heil Hitler,' it's 'Heil Canada.'" So "Heil Canada" it was, and Hitler sank into oblivion. Children forget so quickly.

Then dogs seem to be a source of annoyance and a sore subject with so many people. Of course, it is terribly annoying when they scratch in your front flowerbeds and borders, and bury their choice bones in your plot of perennials, and claw up your lawn with their strong hind feet, and send clots of grass and soil away up on to your verandah. Sure, I know all about it. But as someone said to me when I laughingly said "Well, no doubt I ask for it. I keep a basin of fresh water for my doggie boy friends by the side verandah and save all my meat scraps for them."—"You sure do ask for it!"

One cute little dog that comes day after day to see me—the owners don't mind it coming, for I made sure of that—comes in and plants itself in front of the refrigerator waiting for a hand-out, and it goes round and round in a sort of whirling dervish dance when I open the frig door to get something for it—whirls round and round, till its pretty silky ears stand right out from its head! I know it buries its surplus bones in my flower bed for I've watched it. Well, bones are good fertilizers!

By the way, I nearly forgot—watch out for your autumn crocus. I've had three blooms in mine already. They are one of the daintiest flowers that grow. The real name, colcicum, doesn't sound half as pretty as they are!

AURORA

BROTHERS JOIN R.C.A.F.

Jack and Bruce Cowieson, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cowieson, Toronto, formerly of Aurora, have joined the R.C.A.F. Bruce is stationed in Trenton and Jack in Toronto. Jack has been living in Brantford for the past three years.

AURORA

LOCAL MAN

Solicitor L. C. Lee. With the by-law thrown back to the council the question of whether or not an appointment was merely being made of a town electrician or of a joint town electrician and supervisor of public utilities arose, with the majority of the council differing as to what their attitude might be if the question was one or the other.

"The question is, are you in favor of a supervisor of public utilities or are you merely appointing an electrician," said Mayor Underhill.

"No matter which we are appointing I am in favor of a local man," said Councillor Linton. "I understood we were considering a successor to George Walker, not what we might do in the future."

"The whole question was pretty well discussed when the council met," said Councillor A. N. Fisher. "We are considering the future and the fact that we would eventually need one man in charge of everything."

"The town cannot afford two high salaried men," said Deputy-Reeve Sparks. "We had the idea of a supervisor in mind for the future, but apparently the by-law is only for an electrician."

"You would not get much harmony with a quick change," said Councillor Linton. "It takes time for a person to become acquainted with the system here.

"We are voting for an electrician, not what might take place in the future," said Councillor Cook.

"We have no assurance that an outsider would remain in our service. We have a man who has lived here most of his life," said Councillor Linton. "He can do the job and all his interests are here."

"The matter is too sudden to decide on the spur of the moment. I am inclined to favor a supervisor but I would like to see a local man get the job. This question of a supervisor which seems to be a factor was not considered when the by-law was prepared," said Councillor G. A. C. Gunton.

Council finally went back into committee of the whole to consider only the appointment of an electrician, whereupon, with the names of Charles Copland, T. K. Fice of Aurora, and H. A. Eveleigh before them, the council appointed Mr. Eveleigh.

Mr. Eveleigh is 40 years of age, married, with one child and was born in England. He has been in the electrical business since 1919 and has lived most of his life here. At present he has his own electrical business. In addition to electricity, he is familiar with plumbing and waterworks problems.

RELIEF HITS NEW LOW

Relief figures struck a new low for Aurora during August with a total of six persons on relief, mostly all females and unemployables, and a low expenditure for everything of $49.92.

Medical relief on this basis was $3. County hospitalization charges for the same period amounted to $17.50, while there were no charges laid before the council for indigent patients.

VISITS AURORA

Mrs. Irene Stewart of Gladstone, Mich., spent the weekend with her cousin, Mrs. Orval Heath.

It is 21 years since the two have been together and during her stay Mrs. Stewart visited the Canadian National Exhibition. She was much impressed with the beauty of Aurora and the varied program at the exhibition.

Gladstone is 500 miles north of Michigan in the extreme north of the state. Mrs. Heath's mother and Mrs. Stewart's father were sister and brother.

MOVE TO NEW HOMES

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Patrick are occupying their newly purchased residence at the corner of Tyler and Temperance St., this month.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Swindle of Lefroy have rented the residence at the corner of Kennedy and Temperance Sts., formerly occupied by J. R. Harrison.

RECEIVES PROMOTION

Gordon Bazley, managing director of Hi-Do Yeast Ltd., occupying part of the old match factory, and who is well-known to Aurorans, enlisted with the R.C.A.F. some months ago and has been promoted to the rank of flight-lieutenant and is occuping an important administrative post at Calgary.

IS O.M.A. DIRECTOR

W. W. Gardhouse of Weston, treasurer of the county of York, has been re-elected as a director of the Ontario Municipal Association, which met in Toronto last week.

RESUMES STUDIES

Miss Evelyn Leaper of Toronto, who has been employed in Morning's drug store for the past two months, returned home on Sunday. She will enter second year in the Ontario College of Pharmacy on Sept. 15.

TAKE BUSINESS COURSES

Miss Anne Leggitt and Miss Helen Spragg are taking a stenographic course at a Toronto business college. Bill Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Richardson, is also enrolled in a business course at another Toronto school.

WHAT COUNCIL DID

1. Passed relief accounts of $49.92.
2. Appointed H. A. Eveleigh town electrician at a salary of $1,430.

PEPPER AND SALT

By PEP

Hardball went into its 1941 finale in Newmarket Tuesday night and the Military Camp came out to take the curtain call of victory. The troops won this third game of the series 7-3 after turning defeat into victory.

Going into the last inning, Davis Leather were leading 3-2 and, by the careful and cautious way they were playing, seemed to be on the verge of their first victory in this championship series. But "to be or not to be" was "not to be" and the youthful and big guns of the army attack swung into action with devastating effect.

Bob Peters, twirling for Davis Leather, couldn't match speed with speed in that seventh and his pitching wits, which had lasted him well until then, collapsed too. Still, Peters and Davis Leather knew themselves that they were up against a better team and that whether they won this one or lost wasn't going to make much difference to the final outcome.

While kissing the boys goodbye, we can reminisce that this summer's hardball was very successful from a customer standpoint and from the players' standpoint. Many more fans were recruited, the games were more interesting and the players gave all they had, which, though at times was not much, sufficed. Soon as the fellows have more hardball tucked under their belts, we will be sending an occasional real hardball player from this town to higher company.

The whole town would jump with joy if this ever did happen, if we managed to develop a player into another Earl Selkirk, who graces the New York Yankees' roster, or a Phil Marchildon, now pitching excellent ball for the Philadelphia Athletics, both of these athletes Canadians. The publicity alone would let this town solve its national debt. Well, we can dream, can't we.

With the kids resuming school this week, mothers' hair regains its natural lustre, fathers smoke their pipe in peace and those of us at present straddling the fence settle down for a long winter, cough remedies at hand and summer's silliness all but spent (also summer's money entirely spent).

Two soldiers started a brawl on Main St. Sunday night but it turned out to be just another brawl. Exceptionally plastered, they could hardly maintain balance and a touch was enough to upset them. Everyone was disappointed. It's not often you can see a good fight for nothing.

Speaking of school though, the Newmarket high school is resuming its track and field day this fall after a year's lapse and this is a joy to anticipate. Field day is always the most colorful outdoor event at any school and especially at Newmarket high. We're certain it will be that way this year.

SOLDIERS TAKE

in the sixth to again grab the lead. G. Haskett, Peters, Turan, Gunn and Tansley coming up with bingles. However, all the leather squad could count was one, owing to some poor base-running.

The tanners lead was short lived, because, as in previous games in the series, the soldiers broke through in their last turn at bat to come over with five runs and chalk up another victory. The Camp's five counters were all brought home on one hit, the leather gang helping considerably with a couple of errors and let their lead slip away.

The army squad, under the able direction of Corp. Jackson, are indeed worthy champions of the hardball league, showing fine sportsmanship and all-round ability throughout the season, to cop top honors.

The tannery squad battled all the way and deserved a better fate on the game and were worthy town representatives to battle the Camp team.

Line-up: M.T.C., Bates c, Moore p, Andrews 1b, Hardie 2b, Vitallo ss, Jackson 3b, Williams cf, Niles lf.

Davis Leather, Turan c, Peters p, Lusted 1b, Wright 2b, Gunn ss, Fairey 3b, G. Haskett cf, Tansley lf, McCabe rf.

Umpires: plate, Germain; bases, M. Smith, B. Morrison.

Rumor has it that an all-star team from the three town teams, Davis, Specialty and Town will be picked up to try and batter the Camp team this Saturday. Plans are not yet complete, but keep on the watch for this contest.

Arrives In Britain, Tells 1st Impressions

The following letter was received recently from Rfn. E. W. Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Cole of Newmarket, who is on active service with the Canadian army. It was written shortly after his unit had arrived overseas.

Hello folks, hope all are fine as I am. We had a wonderful trip, fairly calm. Only two days we had a little heavy swell. I was O.K. on this trip.

We landed at a port in Scotland, and, believe me, it sure is a beautiful country.

Even with all the bombings and ruins in the cities, words can't express the beauty of Scotland. I wish you all could see this country.

Perhaps you have seen news reel pictures in the show of the ruins in the cities over here. These pictures are the truth, but they don't make a person realize what one bomb can do. To see what only one bomb can do makes one wonder how the people over here can keep smiling.

I never realized what Canada's help means to these people till you go through the country on a troop train and hear them shout "Hello Canada." I'm proud to be here.

We can hear Fritz bombing London from here and can even feel the vibration. Expect to go to London next week on a five-day landing leave.

We are on the strictest rations here and it sure is hard after being used to lots to eat. Send all the tobacco and cigarettes you can spare. They are almost impossible to get.

MRS. HARMON MAKES GLADIOLI CLEAN-UP

Mrs. Charles Harmon made a clean sweep of all classes of gladioli at the Newmarket Horticultural Society summer show held in the Christian church on Saturday evening.

Whilst the competition was not as keen as might have been hoped for, the quality of bloom exhibited was far above the usual standard.

The prize-winners for the decorated dining-tables were: Mrs. Norman Williams, 2, Mrs. E. Brammer.

The first-prize table was tastefully arranged, using two shades of pink with white roses, pink larkspur, scabiosa and baby's breath, combined to give the table a beautiful lacy effect.

The second table was very attractive with its two shades of yellow gladioli tips, combined with gypsophilia.

One of the highlights of the show was the bouquets by school children. It seemed a pity that such an opportunity for education in color combination arrangement, and good taste was not taken advantage of by more children. Here the first prize winner was Donald, second, Barbara, the youngest contestant in the show, just five years old, children of Mrs. Norman Williams. It is to be hoped parents and teachers will encourage more competition in this class in future.

The best arranged bowls of gladioli tips were: 1, N. Williams; 2, Mrs. E. Brammer.

In annual classes the results were as follows:

Annual larkspur, 1, J. Gibney; 2, N. Williams; salpiglossis, 1, N. Williams. 2. Daisy Rutledge; scabiosa, 1, N. Williams.

Best bowl of single petunias, 1, J. Gibney, 2, N. Williams; pom pom zinnias, 1, Daisy Rutledge, 2, J. Gibney; French marigolds, 1, J. Gibney.

The sweepstake gladiolus was a beautiful giant spike of Picardy exhibited by Mrs. Chas. Harmon. She was also the winner of the coveted trophy for the most points gained at the three shows.
